Who will form the Government in India

India’s November parliamentary elections began on April 7, calling on the nation’s 814 million registered voters to elect representatives for the lower house of parliament - the Lok Sabha.

The vote is widely seen as a two-front contest, with the latest opinion polls predicting a slim lead for the opposition NDA coalition led by the Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) and its prime ministerial candidate Narendra Modi. Several polls also suggest that the ruling Congress Party-led UPA alliance may fall short of the 272 seats required to form government. The vote could, in turn, force the BJP to seek support from other parties over 40 seats in UP.

This victory of BJP in UP might charm Mayawati who is keeping her options open and would go to any party that comes to power. Though, she has always talked about Dalits and their votes but has repaid in Brahmins and Muslims as decisive battlegrounds.

The states account for 44 out of 543 parliamentary constituencies up to 20 seats BJP might have a slim role in the formation of the next government. This would, in turn, force the BJP to seek support from other parties over 40 seats in UP.

Vidya Basu mentioned on Radio Southeast Asia that the X-Factors will be the results of the elections, these states are considered to be crucial electoral battlegrounds.

The X-FACTORS

The BJP might play a decisive role not only in UP but in other states as well. The support could be crucial for the country’s future government.

Moreover, it is widely believed that the top post in New Delhi harbors aspirations of taking up the reins in the capital, New Delhi. Yadav further said that the results would be a major decider of a BJP’s fate. With 10 to 20 seats BJP might have a slim chance to form government but BJP would be in a key position to attract other parties over 40 nafeen to join any party till date, acquires 25 to 27 seats. Although Jayalalitha had partnered with the BJP in the past, the female politician has yet to endorse Modi’s candidacy. For NDA, it also seems that the three-time Chief Minister harbors aspirations of taking up the top post in New Delhi herself.

In this regard, she has been endorsed by one of the other leading ladies of Indian politics - Mamata Banerjee, the Chief Minister of the state of West Bengal. Banerjee, whose support could also be crucial for the country’s future government, declared that she would be willing to back the Tamil Nadu leader for the post of premier, but not BJP’s Modi. Mamata Banerjee is once again expected to play a crucial role in the formation of next government.

The Ontario Sikhs and Gurdwaras Council (an umbrella body of Gurdwaras & other Sikh organizations) held its annual Vaisakhi Celebrations, a press release sent to Midweek said. On April 27th, 2014, the Ontario Sikhs and Gurdwara Council (an umbrella body of Gurdwaras and other Sikh organizations) held its annual Vaisakhi Celebrations. Vaisakhi marks one of the most important days of the Sikh calendar. There are approximately 800,000 Sikhs in Canada, with about half of those residing in Ontario, and about 30 million worldwide, making Sikhism the fifth largest religion in the world. Sikhs have been in Canada for more than 100 years. Sikh soldiers have demonstrated excellence in numerous wars, including the first and second world wars with allied forces. In Canada, Sikhs have done remarkably well in every walk of life. They have established themselves as successful business owners, a great number are professionals, and are also represented in all levels of government, including the Parliament of Canada.

Banerjee's party, Trinamool Congress (TMC), had been part of the ruling Congress-led UPA coalition until September 2012. The politician withdrew her support to the alliance after failing to compel the Manmohan Singh-led government to rollback certain decisions on price hikes and foreign investment. Since the break-up, Banerjee has vehemently refused to support the Congress party and its presumed PM nominee Rahul Gandhi, arguing that the national outfit had “lost all its credentials, all its credibility.” However, the 59-year-old politician could once again play a key role after the polls as her party is expected to increase its tally from the present figure of 19 to some 25 to 30 MP’s. Yudhvir made an interesting point that AAP at the national level can be a major player if it wins 25-35 seats as it will be interesting to see whose seats does AAP capture. AAP is making major gains in Delhi, Punjab, UP and Urban India. How much vote share will BJP or Congress lose to AAP at the National Level. If AAP wins 5 to 10 seats then the effects on next Government will be next to nil as it has already announced that AAP will not give or take support to any other party. If BJP led NDA alliance wins 200-220 seats the X-Factors will Play a major role and may even demand a regional leader to be the PM. Congress leader Salman Khurshid has made it very clear that after elections if need be Congress might consider extending support to the Third Front to form the government. “Not only this taking support from the Third Front could also be considered,” Khurshid added. To hit the nail on the head BJP led NDA alliance need 240 plus seats.

ONTARIO – A Stats Canada reports shows the oil boom of the 2000s, increases in real minimum wages and strong growth in the relative number of those earning bachelor's degrees contributed to a narrowing of wage differences between young high school graduates and bachelor's degree holders over the last decade. The findings, contained in a new study, focused on graduates between the 2000-to-2002 and the 2010-to-2012 period. Over that time, average real hourly wages of male high school graduates aged 20 to 34 employed full-time increased by 9%, while women in the same demographic had 11% increase.

In contrast, the average real hourly wages of young female bachelor's degree holders was unchanged, while those of young female bachelor's degree holders increased by 9%. As a result, wage differentials between young high school graduates and bachelor's degree holders narrowed.

For every dollar earned by young male bachelor's degree holders from 2010-2012, young male high school graduates received 75 cents, up from 68 cents in 2000-2002. Female high school graduates, in turn, saw their share rise from 53 cents in 2000-2002 to 60 cents in 2010-2012. Increases in economic activity fuelled by the oil boom of the 2000s which created demand for low-skilled workers to a greater extent than it did for more-educated ones contributed to roughly one-fifth of the narrowing wage differentials among young men and young women. Gains in real minimum wages accounted for about one-fifth of the narrowing of the wage differential among young workers, but had no discernible impact on the wage differential among young men. This was because young female high school graduates were more likely than their male counterparts to have hourly wages at or near the minimum wage rate.

During the period, the number of young female bachelor's degree holders increased by 45%, while the number of young women with a high school diploma rose by 5%. The corresponding numbers for young men were 30% more degree holders and a 16% increase in the high school graduate numbers.

"Canada has 173 billion tons of proven crude oil reserves, the third-largest reserve in the world. As a member of the International Energy Agency, we will remain the dominant fuel globally for decades to come, even under the stringent greenhouse gas (GHG) reduction forecast."

"In 2011, the Canadian Energy Research Institute concluded that over the next 25 years, the total value of the goods, services, and jobs generated by the oil sands could reach $2 trillion, or $85 billion a year."

"Canada has already announced meaningful action to enhance pipeline safety over a further increased efforts that help preventively address incidents, imposing a mandatory minimum financial capability of $1 billion for major pipeline operators and more."

Under Responsible Resource Development, pipeline safety has been further enhanced by investing $13.5 million to the National Energy Board to increase the number of annual on- and gas pipeline inspections by 50 percent to identify issues before incidents occur.

"Budget 2013 provided an additional over $60 million as a measure of enhanced education, skills development and community infrastructure."

"Canada must develop new markets for its energy resources to create jobs, growth and long-term prosperity for decades to come. As a result, Canada is working with its partners to diversify its pipeline and marine safety regimes and increasing engagement with Aboriginal Peoples to ensure the safety of the environment and the security of Canadians as we develop our unprecedented resource wealth."

Five Prime Minister Stephen Harper participated in a question and answer (Q&A) session with the Greater Kitchener Waterloo and the Cambridge Chambers of Commerce. The discussion was moderated by Ian McLean, President and CEO, Greater Kitchener Waterloo Chamber of Commerce, while Greg Droucher, President and CEO, Cambridge Chamber of Commerce, served as Emcee. During the Q&A session, the Prime Minister discussed the Canadian economy and measures that our Government is taking to help Canadian businesses succeed at home and abroad. Some of these measures include support for businesses in Economic Action Plan 2014, tax reductions, the elimination of unnecessary regulatory burdens, and the Canada Job Grant. The Prime Minister also highlighted our Government’s unprecedented efforts to increase access to international markets, skills development and community infrastructure.

Quick Facts

"Supporting the Government’s priority, the Federal Economic Development Agency for Southern Ontario (FedDev Ontario) launched a series of funding initiatives in December 2013. More than $318 million is available through the Southern Ontario Prosperity Initiative aimed at retaining, attracting and growing businesses in southern Ontario to increase the region’s global competitiveness."

"The Government of Canada’s Economic Action Plan 2013 provides $200 million over five years for the Advanced Manufacturing Fund in Ontario, aimed at the development of transformative products and technologies to help Ontario manufacturers create jobs and compete with the rest of the world."

"Ontario’s exports of information and communications technology (ICT) goods to the EU were worth an average of $1.2 billion annually between 2010 and 2013. These exports face tariffs rising as high as 14 per cent on some goods. Upon entry into force, the Canada-EU Trade Agreement will immediately eliminate all EU tariffs on ICT goods, making these goods more competitive and creating the conditions needed for increased sales. Increased sales of these world-class products can lead to more jobs, higher wages and greater long-term prosperity, directly benefitting hard-working Ontarians."

"Ontario’s advanced manufacturing sector exported an annual average of $2.1 billion worth of goods to the EU over 2008 and 2012, with machinery manufacturing at the top of this list. Upon entry into force, the Canada-EU Trade Agreement will immediately eliminate the vast majority of EU tariffs on advanced manufacturing products, making these world-class products more competitive and creating the conditions needed for increased sales. This will directly benefit hard-working Ontarians through more jobs, higher wages and greater long-term prosperity."

"The CETA is a landmark achievement: it is Canada’s first free trade agreement in the Asia-Pacific region, with one of the fastest growing and most dynamic regions in the world. It will provide Canadian businesses and workers with unprecedented access to Korea, which has an annual GDP of $1.3 trillion and a population of 50 million people. The Agreement is projected to increase exports by $52 per cent and boost to the Canadian economy by $17 billion annually."

"Once the CETA and Canada-EU Trade Agreement are in force, Canada will have free trade access to nearly a quarter of the countries in the world, representing more than half of the world’s gross domestic product."

"I was pleased to have the opportunity to meet today with hundreds of people from the Kitchener-Waterloo region to discuss the important measures that our Government is taking to help them succeed and to get their feedback on how to further grow the Canadian economy."

"The unprecedented actions by our Government to increase access to international markets are paying huge dividends for Canadian businesses. Ontario enterprises stand to benefit enormously when the Korea-Canada Free Trade Agreement and the Canada-EU Trade Agreement come into force." - Prime Minister Stephen Harper

Chris Alexander, Canada’s Citizenship and Immigration Minister and Co-ordinator to the Prime Minister, highlighted the record number of Chinese students and permanent residents welcomed to Canada in 2013. They announded that last year, Canada issued more than 370,000 visitor visas to Chinese citizens, welcomed more than 50,000 Chinese students and admitted more than 34,000 Chinese citizens as permanent residents of Canada. This further emphasizes the deep connection that Canada and China share. This comes on the heels of a successful trip that Alexander made to China where he emphasized the many opportunities and pathways to Canada that exist for Chinese skilled workers, travelers, business people and students. While in Shanghai, Alexander met with the Canadian Chamber of Commerce and spoke at academic institutions such as the prestigious Fudan University. These events underscore China’s position as one of the top source countries for students coming to Canada.

"Our government is proud to reaffirm that Canada continues to be a welcoming place for Chinese visitors as well as students, and our doors remain open to those looking to make Canada their home in 2013. China was once again a top source country for permanent residency in Canada, which is an important indicator of this growing people-to-people ties linking our two countries."

AKHILESH DEFENDS VADRA, CALLS MODI ‘MODEL OF DIVIDING INDIA’

In an unusual defence, Uttar Pradesh Chief Minister Akhilesh Yadav on Monday accused the BJP of blowing the issue of Vadra’s land deals out of proportion in an attempt to distract the people’s attention from other things.

Addressing a gathering in Lucknow, Mr. Yadav attacked Congress party vice-president Rahul Gandhi and was quoted as having said, “He [Mr. Gandhi] goes to Lucknow and leads a ‘Modi bolo’ campaign and the Tatas.”

He claimed he had facilitated the AAP’s entry into Muslim areas in Delhi. But, he rued, Mr. Kejriwal did not condemn the "surgical strike" on Naxalites.

Mr. Qazmi claimed that AAP convener Arvind Kejriwal was not president of the Imam Council of India, said the party was targeting RIL at the behest of “the other brother [Anil Ambani].”

Mr. Qazmi also alleged that AAP leader and businessman Abhishek Gupta was opposing the party’s “proximity” with corporate houses, National Council member Maqsood ul Hasan Qazmi quit the party on Monday.

He also submitted that the government has already taken a stand that there is a right to privacy.

In October last year, Mr. Ratan Tata had told the apex court that the tapped telephonic conversations between Ms. Radia and top industrialists, bureaucrats and Businessmen, including himself, were leaked to the media because of corporate rivalry.

UKRAINE CRISIS G-7 LEADERS STATEMENT

We, the leaders of Canada, France, Germany, Italy, Japan, the United Kingdom, the United States, the President of the European Commission, join in expressing our deep concern at the continued efforts by separatists backed by Russia to destabilize eastern Ukraine and our commitment to taking further steps to ensure a peaceful and stable environment for the May 25 presidential election. We welcomed the positive steps taken by Ukraine to meet its commitments under the Geneva accord on April 17 by Ukraine, Russia, the European Union, and the United States. These actions include working towards constitutional reform and decriminalization, proposing an amnesty law for those who will peacefully leave the buildings they have occupied in eastern Ukraine, and supporting the work of the Organization for Security and Co-operation in Europe (OSCE). We also note that the Government of Ukraine has acted with restraint in dealing with the armed bands illegally occupying government buildings and forming illegal checkpoint. In contrast, Russia has taken no concrete actions in support of the Geneva accord. If not explicitly supported the accord, it has not condemned the acts of those separatists seeking to destabilize Ukraine, nor called on armed militias to leave peacefully. The government buildings they’ve occupied and put down their arms. Instead, it has continued to escalate tensions by increasingly concerning rhetoric, and ongoing threatening military maneuvers on Ukraine’s border. We reiterate our strong condemnation of Russia’s illegal annexation of Crimea and Sevastopol, which we do not recognize. We will now follow through on the full legal and practical consequences of this illegal annexation, including but not limited to the economic, trade, and financial areas. We have now agreed that we will move swiftly to impose additional sanctions on Russia. Given the urgency of securing the opportunity for a successful and peaceful democratic vote next month in Ukraine’s presidential elections, we have committed to act urgently to intensify targeted sanctions and measures to increase the costs of Russia’s actions. Russia’s actions in Ukraine and the response from the international community already have imposed significant costs on its economy. While we continue to propose to move to broader, coordinated sanctions, including sectoral sanctions should Russia’s actions persist. We urge Russia to join us in committing to that path.

Prime Minister Stephen Harper speaks with Arseniy Yatsenyuk, Prime Minister of Ukraine, about the ongoing situation and to reaffirm Canada’s support of Ukraine.

Although it’s been ages since the era of bandits, dacoits or the Brigands (who they love to call themselves) has consumed in India, and especially the much dreaded Chambal region of north-central India, Madhya Pradesh. But the cheer of stories associated with them has never lost its home among those who love to harken the tales related with the regions and its uncrowned protagonists of yesteryear. So in this case with one Industries, who are no exceptions to the fact, and have ‘Revolver Rani’ again tried to come up with a cine curiosity, either inspired from the life of one of the dreaded names of the region or at least with its roots embedded in the region. And from the recent generation of Indian movie making, “Baaghi” (based on the life of late Phoolan Devi) and Tigmanshu Dhulia’s “Bandit Queen” (based on the life of late Mirzapur’s Kamalaha Devi) are some of the conspicuous examples of the same. But hopefully we have witnessed our Bollywooders fulfilling with hopics, but this time its disaster and an utter failure. Sai Kabir who with “Revolver Rani” has somehow tried to revive the era of “Fearless Nadia” and “Blasterdavvi”. And to play this cinematic role he roped in none other than very versatile, Kangna who in the recent past hasn’t left any one unspecified by her Plain Jane act in recently released “Queen”. Anyway, unfailing the precursor, plot of “Revolver Rani”ครอบคลุมเนื้อเรื่องของผู้หญิงที่เป็นคนดี “Bollywood” ที่มีชื่อเสียงในยุคเก่า, แต่ครั้งนี้ในการต่อสู้กับผู้ชายที่มีความรู้สึกเป็นเลิศ แต่ลืมร้อนร่วมความรู้สึกในทางตรง Reformer had lost its lustre among those who love to hear the tales related with the regions and its uncrowned protagonists of yesteryear. Anyway, unfailing the precursor, plot of “Revolver Rani” contains the story of a fine band female bandit-ician (Bandit cum Politician) also Singh Panwar, for whom even the slightest provocation is enough unclasp the mouth of her gun. And on the name of family or well-wishers she has a maternal uncle, Balli (Piyush Mishra). As the plot takes off it showcases the end of Alka’s period of influence, after she loses election to her fanatic foe, Uday Singh (ZEE&HHS). And from there begins a war of domination between the two anti-factions for whom exchange of bullets, and hooliganism are just犹如对待勇敢和力量。电影“Revolver Rani”并没有用全部力量去安抚观众,而是以一种轻松的方式,激发观众对电影的期待。电影的开头部分,通过回忆来讲述故事,让观众一开始就进入了一个充满紧张和危险的环境。电影的中间部分,通过角色之间的对话和动作,展示出他们的性格和动机。电影的结尾部分,通过与观众的互动,给电影一个完美的结局。电影“Revolver Rani”展示出一种新的电影风格,它结合了冒险和抒情元素,使观众在观看电影的同时,也能感受到电影的魅力。电影“Revolver Rani”是一部具有创新风格的电影,它打破了传统的电影模式,以一种全新的方式,吸引观众的注意力。电影“Revolver Rani”是一部值得一看的电影,它将会给观众带来全新的观影体验。

Batting worries loom for Knight Riders

Marvan Atapattu has been named Sri Lanka's interim head coach, following the resignation of Trevor Bayliss, the Caribbean-born coach who led the side to the World Cup final last year. The move comes after an inquiry was ordered into allegations of match-fixing, but Atapattu said he had not been informed of any wrongdoing.

Sriwanas's ICC presence to be challenged

The Cricket Association of Bihar, the plaintiff in the IPL case before the Supreme Court, has taken up the matter of Sriwanas representing BCCI at the ICC. This move is to stop Srinivasan from being involved in the upcoming ICC matches.

Atapattu has been appointed interim head coach of Sri Lanka Cricket after Trevor Bayliss stepped down. He has said the move is just a transition to a permanent appointment. Sriwanas was appointed by the BCCI and is a member of the Cricket Committee of the Board of Control for Cricket in India (BCCI).

The move comes as the BCCI is preparing for the upcoming ICC World Cup and the T20 World Cup, where Sriwanas is expected to play a significant role. The BCCI has already appointed Srinivasan as an advisor for the two tournaments.

Atapattu, who was interim head coach of Sri Lanka Cricket between 2017 and 2019, said he was aware of the controversy surrounding Srinivasan and had no personal relationship with the former BCCI chief.

Srinivasan has been a fixture in the cricket world for many years, having served as the BCCI president and later as the head of the Cricket Committee of the Board of Control for Cricket in India (BCCI).

He was also a member of the ICC's match referee panel, and has been involved in various high-profile cases, including the 2013 IPL spot-fixing scandal. Srinivasan has been accused of corruption, but has always denied the charges.

Atapattu said he was confident that he could lead Sri Lanka to success in the upcoming tournaments.
