SANJANA SANGHI, WHO MADE HER DEBUT WITH SUSHANT SINGH RAJPUT-STARRER DIL BECHARA EARLIER THIS YEAR, WILL STAR IN UPCOMING ACTION THRILLER OM – THE BATTLE WITHIN. THE KAPIL VERMA DIRECTORIAL FEATURES ADITYA ROY KAPUR IN THE LEAD ROLE. AFTER EXPLORING MANY SCRIPTS AND POSSIBILITIES FOR A WHILE, OM FELT JUST RIGHT SINCE IT WAS THE SPECTRUM JUMP I WAS LOOKING FOR IN TERMS OF THROWING MYSELF INTO AN ENTIRELY UNCHARTED TERRITORY OF A BIG COMMERCIAL ACTIONER BEING EXECUTED IN A NEVER-SEEN-BEFORE WAY THAT IS GOING TO PRESENT ME WITH NEW & EXCITING CHALLENGES,” SANJANA SAID IN A STATEMENT.

Bhumi Pednekar on working during the pandemic: Every day has to be a new day, should be taken in its own stride

As the unlock phase commenced and film shootings resumed, Bhumi Pednekar was one of the first few actors to start working. She shot for a few ads and finished shooting for her upcoming thriller Durgamati that releases on the web. Happy to be facing the camera after a long break, Pednekar, however, is very cautious and is going by the book when it comes to taking care of herself and people around her. “The idea is to be as safe as possible, to maintain social distancing while you are working. Make sure you keep washing your hands, wear a mask and sanitise. I get myself tested every time I am shooting given that as per guidelines you need be sure that you don’t have the virus so to avoid possible spreading,” she says. That’s not it, as Pednekar also gets people around her tested, which includes her staff too. She believes in the mantra that the more one abides by rules, the more it’s better to keep the surrounding safe.

TWINKLE KHANNA DEFENDS THOSE PUBLICISING CHARITABLE ACTS: ‘IF IT ENCOURAGES OTHERS TO BE KIND THEN WHY NOT?’

Even as the debate over whether to broadcast one’s charitable side or be discreet about it continues, actor-turned-author Twinkle Khanna feels that there is no harm in publicising acts of kindness. She was responding to a tweet by author Kiran Manral criticising those who announce their humanitarian gestures on social media. Defending such people, Twinkle said, “I am not so sure. If it encourages others to be kind then why not? And really a competition between who is more generous and is helping those in need is better for everyone than any other sort of competition.” Kiran’s original tweet read, “Folks putting their acts of kindness up on the TL like a badge of honour. The true act of kindness is the one you never speak about, but carry within you as a memory of how once, you were blessed enough to be able to help someone.” Twinkle’s husband, actor Akshay Kumar, contributed Rs 25 crore to the Prime Minister’s Citizen Assistance and Relief in Emergency Situations (PM CARES) fund set up for relief efforts during the Covid-19 pandemic. She had lauded his gesture on Twitter and written, “The man makes me proud.

MAKING OF THE HULK: MARCUS STOINIS

That afternoon in 2015, Marcus Stoinis was about to catch a flight to India for a cricket tour. The previous night, his cancer-stricken father Chris felt dehydrated and went downstairs for a drink. Weak and dizzy, he passed out on the floor, where Stoinis, his sister, and mother found him six hours later, lying with a broken nose in a pool of blood. “I spend two hours in the hospital, go home, pack my bags, and flew to India that afternoon. 100 per cent I didn’t want to go to India, I didn’t want to be on that plane. But I know if I am going, I have to make it really worth it. I did really well personally and proved a lot to myself. That’s when true mental toughness comes in, your ability to lock into a task, ability to get most of yourself when you feel like you can’t,” Stoinis shares in a podcast, hosted by kids from his old school, Hale, this April. There had been many such moments with his father, who battled cancer for a decade before he died in November 2017. Stoinis was playing in a domestic match when his cousin landed up at the ground.

On the other hand, Shah Rukh Khan's name is currently linked to a project by Raj & DK, Atlee and Rajkumar Hirani, apart from 'Pathaan'.

Ludo comes across as a story that is refreshing and charming at the same time

Ludo is life and life is ludo... Human beings are just different-coloured tokens on the board of life. Who holds the dice of their fate? That's not just a dialogue, but an overview of the film. Four different stories interconnected by a dice!

Much like the game of ludo, the protagonists (Aditya Roy Kapoor, Abhishek Bachchan, Rajkumar Rao and Rohit Saraf) are introduced with a colour of the game in the background. An eccentric criminal, Pankaj Tripathi, is the dice-roller. The first 15 minutes of the film may confuse you, but don't let it deter you from watching it because you are sure to get hooked. Replete with twists and turns, each better than the other, the film continues to get as unpredictable as the game of ludo. It's crazy, it's funny, it makes you happy, sad, angry; occasionally even puzzles, but this roller-coaster ride never bores you. Anurag Basu has a distinct style of filmmaking and with each film he redefines the art of storytelling. Masterfully directed, the screenplay of Ludo, streaming on Netflix, is top-notch and so is its cinematography.

A ventriloquist, Akash (Aditya) chances upon a sex tape that could ruin his ex-girlfriend's (Sanya Malhotra) wedding. Once a criminal, Bittu (Abhishek) is released from jail after six years to find out that his wife and daughter have moved on. Alok aka Alu, who runs a dhaba, is in love with his school-time sweetheart Pinky (Fatima Sana Shaikh), but has taken upon himself to rescue her husband! An unlucky salesman, Rahul (Rohit Saraf) and a Malayali nurse, Sheeja (Pearle), are having a hard time at work where they are bullied and teased. These two get into trouble as they get hold of a suitcase full of money. In a dramatic, haphazard turn of events, all these characters with no common links cross paths and their meeting point it Sattu bhaiya (Pankaj Tripathi). Even after so many characters, everyone gets enough screen time and none outshines the other. They bring thrill, emotions, drama and romance into the 150 minutes of run-time, a bit lengthy but worth it. Each actor has delivered a brilliant performance. Abhishek Bachchan's agony will bring tears to your eyes. Without too many dialogues, he expresses the pain of his character with great depth. Aditya Roy Kapoor is ever-so charming. His selflessness melts your heart. Sanya Malhotra conveys the conflict of a small-town girl with enormous dreams, an identifiable character for many. Fatima Sana Shaikh as a doting wife will bring a smile to your face. Rohit Saraf and Pearle Maaney are hilarious.

However, the two who steal the show are Pankaj Tripathi and Rajkumar Rao. Their comic timing is impeccable! Pankaj as the villain is in full form and Rajkumar as a Mithun clone proves his mettle yet again. A bundle of surprise is the youngest member of the cast — Inayat Verma as Mini. She is a natural and will make you fall in love. Add to this deadly combo some situational songs and it makes for a complete package!

'DEEPIKA PADUKONE MAKES THE CHARACTER BELIEVABLE': SIDDHANT CHATURVEDI ALL PRAISES FOR HIS CO-STAR

After making his Bollywood debut with Gully Boy back in 2019, Siddhant has signed numerous films in quick succession. He has Bunty Aur Babli 2, Phone Booth and also Shakun Batra's directorial. The actor is working with leading actors and producers of the film industry. Moreover, he also proved his mettle with Inside Edge as well as Gully Boy. In Shakun's film, Siddhant is starring alongside Deepika Padukone and Ananya Panday.

During an interaction with Mumbai Mirror, Chaturvedi was asked about shooting experience with Deepika. He stated, "She submits herself completely and makes the character believable. I am living out my dream in every possible way."

Talking about Shakun's way of filmmaking, Siddhant shared, "The scale is quite big and Shakun is trying to push the boundaries of Indian cinema. This film is in that space. Shakun and Zoya Akhtar come from the same school of filmmaking, but both have their own vision." Earlier in an interview, Deepika also praised Shakun and his way of filmmaking. She had said, "I love the kind of film he (Shakun) enjoys watching as a person and as a director, films that he is influenced by and they are the kinds of films I have always enjoyed watching as an audience and as an actor, the kind of films that I love being a part of which is just people and relationships." The actor added, "The idea is simple but it's really about moments and things like that. Which is why I am looking forward to this film because it's exactly that. I mean yes, of course, there is a story and a narrative but every scene is delicious and there is so much for us to do in it."

Comedian Bharti Singh, husband Haarsh Limbachiyaa granted bail in drugs case

After sending to 14-day judicial custody by Mumbai-based court, couple Bharti Singh and Haarsh Limbachiyaa granted bail on Monday. The comedian couple was arrested over the weekend by Narcotics Control Bureau (NCB) after marijuana was procured at their home and office. Bharti and Haarsh also confirmed that they consumed 'ganja' and were arrested on Saturday and Sunday respectively. Their house and office were raided on Saturday after which they were grilled by the NCB. As per ANI, NCB on Monday filed its replies on bail pleas of Bharti Singh and Haarsh Limbachiyaa. "The NCB will file its replies on comedian Bharti Singh and her husband Haarsh Limbachiyaa`s bail pleas today. As I am busy with other cases today, we will request for some other date of argument," Special public prosecutor Atul Sarpande said. The couple was sent to judicial custody till December 4 by Mumbai's Esplanade Court on Sunday. "Charges of consumption of drugs have been invoked against them," said Sameer Wankhede, Zonal Director of the NCB, Mumbai.NCB on Saturday raided the production office and house of comedian Bharti Singh and recovered 86.5 grams of ganja (cannabis) from both places. The NCB had earlier raided a place in Khar Danda area and nabbed a trafficker aged 21 years with various drugs including 15 blots of LSD (commercial quantity), ganja (40 grams), and Nitrazepam (psychotropic medicines). In follow up and in corroboration with previous inputs, the NCB raided the production office and house of comedian Bharti Singh.

Zaira Wasim requests fan pages to take down her photos, says 'trying to start new chapter in life'

Former film actor Zaira Wasim on Saturday urged social media fan pages that were sharing or had previously shared her photos to take them down and not keep sharing them, adding that she was trying to start a new chapter in her life and was therefore asking for a 'little favour'.

The national award-winning actor, who disassociated herself from Bollywood in 2019, took to her verified Instagram handle to make the request. In a series of photos, Zaira made the request and said " it was because of the care and consideration that all her fans have always shown that she had a little favour to ask from all of them". "Hello everyone!! I want to just take a moment to thank each of you for the constant love and kindness you have showered me with. Y'all have been a constant source of love and strength, thank you for being there to support me through everything (sic)," she wrote. "It was because of this care and consideration that y'all have always shown that I have a little favour to ask from all of you. I request you to please take down my pictures from your accounts and ask other fan pages to do the same," she added.

CHHALAANG: A LEAP TO NOWHERE

One who doesn't believe in ghosts get the taste of it — a popular formula done before and not dusted yet. Yes, Laxmii cannot just be dusted off as it's the official Hindi remake of Tamil horror-comedy flick Kanchana. Akshay Kumar stepped into the shoes of Raghava Lawrence, who not only played the lead but also helmed the original film. When the trailer was dropped we got to see everything but not who the actual transgender was, the role originally played by R. Sarathkumar in Tamil film.

The plot starts with Akshay Kumar and his wife Kiara Advani being called by her mother to pay a visit for the 25th wedding anniversary. Her parents' anniversary and Kiara's elder brother's role is played by Manu Rishi and wife Ashwini Kalsekar (Ummm... something to think about). Akshay plays the role of Asif, a Muslim guy who finds it hard to get accepted by Kiara's family. But that wasn't an important element at all. He comes, he conquers their hearts and gets possessed by a transgender's spirit in no time. It is a visual treat to watch Akshay turn into Laxmii as those were the most enjoyable moments of the film.

The initial build-up of showing spookiness can be scary for a minuscule number of people who are not into horror movies at all. The film tries to become a comedy flick with over-the-top acting by the cast and not-so-funny one-liners. Well, Kanchana was also all about that! Raghava Lawrence forayed into Bollywood with his forte of horror-comedy but Kanchana is a decade-old formula. Bollywood redefined horror-comedy with Stree released in 2018 which set a high benchmark for the genre. The film's only X-factor is Akshay Kumar and watching him in a different space. The female lead Kiara Advani has nothing much to do but her cherubic look and subtle face bring calming moments in the film.

The biggest surprise of Laxmii is Sharad Kelkar, the OG Laxmi! He will leave you amazed and impressed from the word 'go'. The actor once again proved that he is an underrated gem. We wish there was some more screen space for Sharad and his strong act as Laxmi. Dialogues play an important role in a horror-comedy flick with punchlines and one-liners and Farhad Samji is the mastermind behind Laxmii. But we have seen better of him in many blockbusters. Talking about songs, 'Bam Bholle' is highly energizing and Akshay is a cherry on the top. The five-minute-long sequence is well shot and deserves a theatre watch. Kanchana, however, the content was highly enjoyable for its slapstick approach but Laxmii lacks in it. Not so horrific, not so comic maketh Akshay Kumar the only saviour of the not-so-ticking bomb!

Happy birthday Salim Khan: When legendary screenwriter refused to talk to producers for son Salman Khan

Bollywood superstar Salman Khan is often found speaking fondly about his father Salim Khan, who turns 85-year-old on his birthday today. More recently, Salman had narrated an incident - of how his father - the legendary scriptwriter - refused to help him with work. Salman was talking about nepotism on the show 'Bigg Boss 14' during a 'Weekend Ka Vaar' episode. He spoke about nepotism - an accusation that the show's contestant Rahul Vaidya made on his co-contestant Jaan Kumar Sanu, who is now evicted from the house. Salman was narrating an incident about how he is an example of having easy access to the film fraternity but making it completely on his own. While talking about the incident, Salman had said, "My father Salim Khan had access to producers. They all used to come and visit our house. I wanted to become an actor at that time, so I approached him and asked him to talk to one of the producers." Salman said that his father turned down the request for a very simple reason. "He said no, I can ask them to cast you, but then you would never know what success tastes like. What is the use of such a talent if you have to pitch it to others? Let your talent speak for yourself. They would automatically come and visit you." As luck had it, Salman indeed became a superstar with scripts waiting at his doorstep. In fact, the actor himself turned a producer and opened up his production house called Salman Khan Films, which has produced most Salman Khan movies, including 'Bajrangi Bhaijaan', 'Tiger Zinda Hai', 'Bharat' and 'Dabangg 3'. Salman's upcoming movie 'Radhe: Your Most Wanted Bhai' is also bankrolled by Salman Khan Films. His films after that, including 'Kabhi Eid Kabhi Diwali', are also bankrolled under his banner.

KANGANA RANAUT, SISTER RANGOLI MOVE BOMBAY HC TO QUASH MUMBAI POLICE'S FIR

Bollywood actor Kangana Ranaut and her sister Rangoli Chandel moved Bombay High Court on Monday in the on-going case against them. The sisters were accused of inciting communal violence and an FIR was lodged against them with the Mumbai Police. Kangana and Rangoli have challenged the order of the magistrate court in Bandra, which was passed on October 16. The sisters were summoned by the Bandra police for the third time on November 23-24. Kangana was summoned for November 23 and Rangoli for November 24. These are the third summons to the sisters after they failed to appear before the police officials on November 10, and November 11 and before that between October 26-27. The sisters had missed the two summons since they were busy with their brother Aksht's wedding preparations. On October 17, after taking cognisance of Munnawaral aka Sahil Ahsrafali Sayyed's complaint, upon the direction of the Bandra Metropolitan Magistrate J.Y. Ghule, an FIR was registered against the siblings. In his FIR, Bollywood casting director and fitness trainer, Sayyed had accused the two of spreading communal hatred, defaming the film industry, portraying the people working in it in a bad light with claims of nepotism, drug addiction, communal bias, attempting to drive a wedge between artistes of different communities, calling them murderers, insulting religions, etc, on the social media and through public statements. It said that the Bandra police station did not take cognizance of the offence, after which the complainant moved the court. Later, an FIR was registered against Kangana Ranaut and Rangoli Chandel at Bandra police station under charges of sedition and promoting enmity between different groups on grounds of religion. The case has been registered under Section 124 A (sedition), 153-A (promoting enmity between different groups on grounds of religion, race, place of birth, residence, language, prejudicial to maintenance of harmony) and 295-A (deliberate and malicious acts, intended to outrage religious feelings by insulting its religion) of the Indian Penal Code (IPC).

Richa Chadha has been sharing a few posts on her Instagram page wherein she is packing her stuff and moving in with beau and actor Ali Fazal. Now, the couple is finally living in together and Richa shared her excitement on the same. For the uninitiated, Richa and Ali were set to tie the knot this year but due to the coronavirus pandemic, the couple has postponed their wedding indefinitely. Thus, they have decided to live under the same roof until then. Talking about the same, Richa told Mumbai Mirror, "The lease on my previous apartment had expired in March but the lockdown postponed the shift." They are living in an apartment which has a beautiful sea-view. When asked about how is Ali as a housemate, Richa shared, "He is fun, and unlike most boys, likes to help around. He chose the curtains without fuss; luckily, our aesthetics match for the most part. It's good to finally be able to make decisions together, right from what soap to buy to which maid to hire. Ali is a better cook, especially when it comes to continental cuisine. When we went grocery shopping, his bag was bigger than mine. I enjoy organic farming and here we have a space to grow a kitchen garden of our own, which he is helping me with."

The tagline of the film is 'The Myth' and will be streamed from December 11, 2020, on Amazon Prime Video. Akshay shared the poster with the announcement on his Instagram page and captioned it as "Are you ready?. Meet #DurgamatiOnPrime on Dec 11, @PrimeVideoIN @bhumipednekar @ashokdirector #BhushanKumar @ivikramix @tseries.official @abundantiaent @arshad_warsi @senguptajisshu @MahieGillOnline @karankapadiaofficial @shikhaarif.sharma @babita.ashiwal."

Durgamati also stars Arshad Warsi, Jisshu Sengupta, Mahie Gill, Karan Kapadia and others in pivotal roles. The film is directed by Ashok and produced by Akshay Kumar's Cape of Good Films, T-Series' Bhushan Kumar, Krishan Kumar and Abundantia Entertainment's Vikram Malhotra. Akshay and Bhumi had earlier collaborated as actors in Toilet: Ek Prem Katha. Durgamati is reportedly the Hindi remake of the South film Bhagamathie, which originally starred Anushka Shetty in the lead role. The 2018 horror movie revolved around a woman trapped in a haunted house amidst her interrogation in a corruption case. The Bhumi Pednekar starring film has been shot at real locations in Madhya Pradesh. She is playing the role of an IAS officer in the movie. Mahie has also been roped in for the role of a cop in the film.

SANA KHAN CHANGES HER NAME AFTER GETTING MARRIED TO MUFTI ANAS, MORE WEDDING PICS OUT

Sana Khan, who got married to Surat-based Anas Sayed, has now changed her name after turning Mrs. Sayed. She has shared her new name on Instagram as Saiyed Sana Khan. More images from her wedding are also out now. In the images, Sana was seen in a red lehenga. She was seen in a huge gold and pearl necklace, matching earrings and maangtika. Her bridal makeup was also on-point. Sana had shared the first picture from her wedding. She looked like a vision in a white gown and covered herself with an abaya. The former actress and 'Bigg Boss 6' ex-contestant took to her Instagram page and shared the official wedding photo with Anas. In the photo, the former actor who quit showbiz in October this year looked beautiful in a red lehenga choli with gold jewellery set. She captioned her post stating, "Loved each other for the sake of Allah.

Married each other for the sake of Allah. May Allah keep us united in this Duniya. And reunite us in jannah. Fabi ayyi ala-e rabbekumaa tokazzebaan. Which of the favours of your lord will u deny #sanakhan #anassayed #nikah #married #20thnov #alhumdulillah." While quitting showbiz, Sana penned a prolonged note which read as "I am at an important juncture in my life. For years, I have been living the Showbiz (Film Industry) life, and during this time I have been blessed with all kinds of fame, honour and wealth from my fans for which I am grateful to them. But, for the last few days, a thought has kept me occupied. I have been wondering, does one take birth only to earn wealth and fame for oneself? Isn't it a moral responsibility of humans to serve or support those who are helpless or needy? Shouldn't people think about what will happen to them in the after-life since one can die at any given time?"

Jaan Kumar Sanu's mother reacts to Kumar Sanu's statement on their son's 'upbringing'

Days after Kumar Sanu's statement on Jaan Kumar Sanu's upbringing, his ex-wife Rita Bhattacharya, who raised Jaan on her own, has reacted to his statement. She has stated that there was 'no need to create propoganda'. In an interview with Times of India, Rita refused to talk about Kumar Sanu, clearing that he has not been in touch since 27 years. "He can't be a topic of discussion for me. Also, I feel whatever he said in the first video about Jaan and me, he actually answered to all those people who have been questioning Jaan on nepotism. Because of comments against Jaan in the first video, everyone got an answer whether Jaan is a nepo kid or not. Secondly, whatever he said in both the videos was his choice, the way he said was his opinion," she said. "But as a mother I must tell you that when you are offended by someone and you're saying something about a person, you don't forget the relationship. For example here if I am talking about Nikki, she is not related to me, she's like my child but not related to me," added Rita. She also asked Kumar Sanu to realize he was talking about his own son. "Kumar Sanu should have realised that he is talking about his own son. There was no need to create propaganda. I don't want sympathy in this case, nor do I want to take advantage of this situation that if he has said something, then I will retaliate. I am very happy in my life, so are my children. They are doing absolutely fine in their careers. They are very much established, educated, good people. I don't want to say anything which I have to sit and correct tomorrow," she shared. Kumar Sanu had reacted to Jaan's comments on remarks against Marathi language on the show 'Bigg Boss 14'. In a video, Kumar said in Hindi that Mumbai and Maharashtra made him what he is and he could never belittle the Marathi language. "I heard that my son, Jaan, said something very wrong that never crossed my mind or could have crossed my mind in these 41 years. Maharashtra, Mumbai and Mumba devi blessed me and gave me name, fame and everything else. I can never think such things about that same Mumba devi and Maharashtra. I love and respect all languages of India. I have sung songs in different languages," he said, Hindustan Times reported. Kumar also said he has not been living with Jaan for the last 27 years and did not know about the upbringing he had received from his mother, Rita Bhattacharya. He said, "I have not been with my son for 27 years. We have been living separately for 27 years. I don't know about the upbringing his mother gave him and I don't understand how he could have said such a thing. I am sorry. As a father, I can only apologise to you all." On Wednesday night, Jaan issued an apology on the show as well. The video of Jaan's apology begins with Bigg Boss telling Jaan that discrimination of any kind is not tolerated on the show. "Namaste, mera naam Jaan Kumar Sanu hai. Maine kuch dino pehle, anjaane mein hi sahi, magar maine ek galti ki, jisse Marathi logon ko, aur unke sentiments ko thes pahunchi hai. Main iss baat ke liye sincerely sorry kehna chahunga. Mera bilkul bhi intention nahi tha ke main Marathi logon ko thes ya chot pahunchaun. Agar mere intentions galat aaye hain saamne se, toh main uske liye tahe dil se maafi maangna chahunga. Bigg Boss I am really sorry ke maine aapko sharminda kiya hai, aur main aage se yeh baat bilkul repeat nahi karunga (Namaste, my name is Jaan Kumar Sanu. A few days ago, I unknowingly made a blunder that has hurt the sentiments of Marathi people. I am sincerely sorry about this. It was never my intention to offend the Marathi people. If my comments have been perceived as negative, I would like to apologise for them. I would also like to apologise to Bigg Boss for harming the show's reputation, and will repeat this mistakeke)."

KAPIL DEV PICKS MS DHONI AS KEEPER IN KAPIL XI TEAM, SAYS 'NO ONE CAN TOUCH HIS SPOT'

From lighting fast stumpings to taking almost accurate DRS - Mahendra Singh Dhoni cannot go wrong when it comes to wicketkeeping, and surely, the former India captain has proved the same on multiple occasions. So when Kapil Dev was asked to pick his 'Kapil XI team,' there is no doubt that the World Cup winner picked the other trophy winner as a keeper. In a recent interaction with Bollywood actress Neha Dhupia on her 'No Filter Neha' Saavn original podcast, Kapil Dev picked Dhoni as the player whose spot no one can take. On asked to name his team, Kapil Dev said: "There's a Test match is different, there's a one day cricket is different. ODI...if I have to pick, I would say definitely Sachin Tendulkar, Virender Sehwag, Virat Kohli, will be there, Rahul Dravid will be there, Yuvraj will be there. "Wicket Keeper is only Dhoni. Nobody can touch his spot," the former India captain added. "You have Zaheer Khan, you have Sreenath. Recently Bhumrah, I can say. He's done extremely well. Anil Kumble, all-time great spinner, and Harbhajan. These are the cricketers who come to my mind very much there," he added. Kapil Dev and MS Dhoni are only the two Indian captains who have led India to World Cup victories so far. India had won the 1983 ODI World Cup under Kapil Dev and years later MS Dhoni-led India to the T20I World Cup win in 2007 and followed it up with the 2011 ODI World Cup win as well. As for the wicketkeeper, MS Dhoni, who retired from international cricket, had announced in Chennai Super Kings' (CSK) last IPL game this season that he would return in the Indian Premier League (IPL) next year as it is only five months away.

'TEAM INDIA ARE GOING TO BE MISSING A BIG PIECE OF THEIR TEAM': DAVID WARNER ABOUT THIS PLAYER

Before the announcement of the squad to travel to Australia, Team India were faced with many injured players during the Indian Premier League (IPL). However, there were some players, whose injury could impact the whole team.

Rohit Sharma's absence is a big loss for the Indian team feels Australia batsman David Warner. However, he asserted that the visitors are well equipped to have in-form replacements.

Rohit is currently at NCA in Bengaluru undergoing rehabilitation for the hamstring injury sustained in the recently concluded Indian Premier League (IPL). The Mumbai Indians skipper has been rested for the white-ball leg of the Australia tour and will be a part of the Test squad. "He's a big piece of their team they're going to be missing, but they've got great in-form guys, KL Rahul, Shikhar Dhawan and Mayank [Agarwal]. These guys played in the IPL, so you've got guys in good touch and great talent and depth in Indian cricket to take that position of Rohit," ESPNcricinfo quoted Warner as saying.

"He's a big hole in their team up the top, but you've got guys who can replace him who are in form that will do a good enough job, if not better, as we saw in India," he added. Also, the Indian skipper Virat Kohli will be playing just one Test against Australia and will then head back home after being granted paternity leave by the BCCI.

India and Australia will square off against each other in three ODIs, three T20Is, and four Tests. The tour will commence with the three-match ODI series, slated to begin in Sydney from November 27. After the white-ball leg, both sides will shift their attention to the longest format of the game. The first Test between India and Australia will be a day-night contest at Adelaide Oval. The four-match series will be a part of the World Test Championship (WTC). Australia are on top of the standing while India is at the second position after ICC altered the points system for WTC due to the coronavirus pandemic.

Gary Kirsten is 'best coach we played under,' says Yuvraj Singh's heartfelt birthday wish

Gary Kirsten - the former head coach of Team India - had a highly fruitful tenure which culminated with the side lifting the World Cup after 28 years in 2011. So today on his special day retired all-rounder Yuvraj Singh took to Twitter to wish the man on his 53rd birthday today. Posting an emotional picture of him and Kirsten after the World Cup triumph, Yuvraj wrote: "Wishing a very Happy Birthday to @Gary_Kirsten - the best coach we played under! Someone who knew how to build a rock-solid team and bring out the best from each player on the park. Hope you're doing good and staying safe. Have a great year ahead!". While the Indian team was led by MS Dhoni, Yuvraj's all-round show - 362 runs and 15 wickets, at averages of 90.50 with the bat and 25.13 with the ball had grabbed all attention. Apart from being the coach when India lifted the 2011 trophy, Kirsten was also part of the Team India set-up when they rose to the number one ranking in Tests in 2009.

Steve Smith is ready for Indian pacers: Australian assistant coach Andrew McDonald

From being concussed by a short-pitched delivery from Jofra Archer at Lord's last year and also bounced out several times by New Zealand speedster Neil Wagner last summer, India are sure to subject Steve Smith to a bouncer barrage. However, Australia assistant coach Andrew McDonald said on Sunday that the batsman is well-equipped to succeed against such strategy. The top-ranked Test batsman can expect similar treatment from India but McDonald is unfazed by the prospect, pointing out that Smith bounced back from the Lord's concussion with a double century at Old Trafford. "Even in one-day cricket and T20 cricket, he's been able to score runs with that plan being adopted by opponents," said McDonald. "So, I don't necessarily see it as a weakness ... they (India) can keep approaching it that way if they want." Virat Kohli and his men did try it when Australia played three one-day internationals in India earlier this year, and a repeat of the ploy wouldn't surprise. "It's going to be a tactic a lot of bowling units will use against our top-line batters, especially with four men out in one-day cricket," McDonald said.

INDIA VS AUSTRALIA — HEAD-TO-HEAD, PAST RECORDS IN ODI

After the Indian Premier League (IPL), all actions now shifts to international cricket where India are all set to take on Australia in the series Down Under from November 27. The full-fledged tour comprises of three ODIs, as many T20Is and four Test matches. As far the two powerhouses are concerned, Australia have dominated the head-to-head record in ODIs with 78 victories in 145 ODI matches. With 52 games going in India's favour, 15 clashes were washed out due to rain or other external factors. While this record could give a boost to the Aussie side, but the recent rise of India in ODI cricket could prove to be tough for the host.

Timeline of Rohit & Ishant's injuries as Ravi Shastri says they both should arrive in Australia as soon as they can

It seems the ambiguity around Rohit Sharma's injury is not going to end soon. Four days after Rohit Sharma began his fitness training at the National Cricket Academy (NCA) in Bengaluru, Team India head coach Ravi Shastri talking to ABC sport said that it will get difficult for both Rohit and Ishant Sharma to feature in the test series if their recoveries take time. "He's going through some tests at the NCA and they're obviously going to decide [for] how long he needs to take a break. But things could get difficult if he's asked to wait for too long, [because] then you're talking of the quarantine again, which might make it really tough for even him to come just in time for the Test series," said Shastri. While Ishant sharma had started bowling after recovering from his oblique muscle tear under the watchful eyes of Paras Mhambre and Rahul Dravid. The questions still remain on Rohit's fitness even after him playing well in the last three games for Mumbai Indians, and was moving and running well as he scored a match-winning 68 in the IPL final.

THIS 'MOST RELIABLE PLAYER' OF IPL SHOULD HAVE BEEN PART OF INDIA'S SQUAD, SAYS BRIAN LARA

The Indian Premier League (IPL) saw a lot of budding talent and some who even made it to the Indian squad, however, former West Indies skipper Brian Lara feels that there is one player who should have been part of the team that is in Australia for the series Down Under. Lara believes Mumbai Indians' (MI) 'most reliable player' Suryakumar Yadav should have been included in India's squad for the Australian tour, which gets underway on Friday. Suryakumar has scored 5,326 runs at an average of 44.01 in 77 first-class matches while he has amassed 3,492 runs from 165 T20s games averaging at 32.33. The right-handed batsman had a dream run in the recently concluded 13th edition of the Indian Premier League (IPL) as he played a vital role in Mumbai Indians' fifth title win. Suryakumar stood like a wall batting at number three for Mumbai Indians. He scored 480 runs striking at 145.01 in 16 matches but the 30-year-old didn't find any place in the Indian squad for the long multi-format tour.

Lara praised the right-handed batsman for his capability to bat under pressure and had no hesitation in saying that the 'class player' should have been in the Indian squad. "Yeah, definitely. He's a class player. I don't just look at players that score runs, I look at their technique, capabilities under pressure, positions that they're batting and for me, Suryakumar Yadav has done such a wonderful job for Mumbai. He comes to bat on the back of Rohit Sharma, and Quinton de Kock and every time, they are under pressure, he comes in at No. 3," Lara said while speaking on Star Sports show Cricket Connected.

Coming Together by Staying Apart to Support Local Health Care Heroes

VIRTUAL FUNDRAISING CONCERT RAISES VITAL FUNDS FOR HOSPITAL EQUIPMENT

BRAMPTON—They may have been physically distanced, but over 2000 people gathered virtually on Friday night to raise more than $460,000 for William Osler Health System's (Osler) three hospitals and show their support for the front line health workers who've been working day and night since the pandemic began. For the first time in the event's nine-year history, music fans and philanthropists came together online for the annual Gala Benefit Concert in support of William Osler Health System Foundation (Osler Foundation).

"I never expected a year ago that we wouldn't be all together in person celebrating this event, but we are thrilled that so many joined us online to enjoy the reimagined show and pay tribute to our Health Care Heroes," said Ken Mayhew, President & CEO of William Osler Health System Foundation. "Access to exceptional health care close to home has never been more important. We are grateful for the sponsors, donors and guests of our Gala Benefit Concert—your support will help fund urgently-needed pieces of equipment and help our front line staff continue the fight against COVID-19."

The popular event was presented by DG Group and featured an all-Canadian lineup including comedian Jessica Holmes, who hosted the event, and music legend Sarah McLachlan, who performed several of her most-loved hits. Brampton Mayor Patrick Brown spoke to the dedication of local health care heroes and hometown superstar Roberta Battaglia, a recent Top10 finalist on America's Got Talent, also performed, while live and silent auctions gave concert guests a chance to do some pre-holiday shopping. "I'm delighted that we can once again support this great cause and fabulous event, albeit in a different format than usual," said Darren Steedman, Vice-President, DG Group. "We are so fortunate to have incredible, world class health care around the corner and we are proud to support Osler and to pay tribute to our Health Care Heroes as the presenting sponsor."

The concert included a special announcement of a matching gift by the Dolan Family and their company Dolan Foods — matching funds raised at the concert, up to $50,000.

The Gala Benefit Concert is one of the most significant annual fundraisers for Osler Foundation, which raises vital funds to purchase equipment for Brampton Civic Hospital, Etobicoke General Hospital and Peel Memorial Centre for Integrated Health and Wellness. In Ontario, 100% of hospital equipment must be funded by the community, making the success of events like the Gala Benefit Concert crucial for ensuring exceptional health care is available close to home.

"These are unprecedented times for us all but especially for health care workers who serve daily on the frontlines of this pandemic," said Dr. Naveed Mohammad, President and CEO, William Osler Health System. "Our Health Care Heroes put their own personal fears aside in order to care for those in our community who were diagnosed with COVID-19. There were long, hard days, and there continue to be I am so incredibly proud of the dedication and determination of Osler staff, physicians and volunteers, and the work of the Osler Foundation team in leading this stellar event in support of our hospitals."

Key facts about the William Osler Health System Foundation Gala Benefit Concert:
