The B-town diva, who recently attended an awards night, walked the red carpet in a shimmering crimson shade Monisha Jaising halter neck fishtail gown, with satin wraparounds on her neckline and waist that looked just magnificent. Urvashi's award night ensemble was completed with accessories like bracelets and rings which teamed with a clutch that completed her overall look, which took grand total of the actress's entire look go beyond Rs 35 lakh. The look that Urvashi Rautela sported was conceptualised by stylist Tushar Kapoor, who said "Styling someone like Bollywood's young superstar, Urvashi Rautela, for something as big as Filmfare I find it surreal, exciting, and scary. To be honest such a tremendous response was absolutely unexpected. When you get into it, it is totally a different thing. You're kind of putting one foot in front of the other, but now, for it to be out and so well received, it's pretty tremendous. Urvashi Rautela wore a crimson gown by Monisha Jaising for Filmfare, the gown costs Rs 70 thousand, and the jewellery itself costs around Rs 34 Lakh. The clutch that completed the look costs Rs 30 thousand". The actress was last seen in the music video 'Ek Ladki Bheegi Bhaagi Si' and 'Teri Load Ve' this year and before that Urvashi played the lead role in 'Virgin Bhanupriya'. SANYA MALHOTRA IS MUCH BEYOND A WIDOW WHO CAN'T CRY

Stories coming from the heartland of the country are a reflection of how people are unlearning age-old regressive traditions. It's not a necessity that the younger generation of the family wants to break the bondage of the traditions but the support of older people help in doing so. Pagglait starts as a film about a family mourning the sudden demise of the oldest son who got married five months back. There's no information on how the man looked, how did he die nothing. The film is totally in the present with the past just being a catalyst. Along with mourning the death, the family is eager to know how the young widow Sandhya (Sanya Malhotra) coping up with the news. Much to their dismay, she is neither shocked nor shedding tears on knowing about her husband's death. Instead, she craves chips, soft drinks, spicy gol-gappas. Sandhya shows concern for the likes and comments she got on her Facebook post. Even her best friend Nazia (Shrutii Sharma) is unable to understand what's going on. But that's the thing, just because you don't mourn in a stereotypical way like shedding tears and leaving food among many things, people believe that death didn't make any difference to you. That's what Pagglait is all about! It's much beyond a widow who can't cry, it's about unlearning and accepting the age-old way of grievances. Even in today's times, some families want to see their children married irrespective of how they feel about each other. Caste, religion everything comes into question when two individuals fall for each other and want to become life partners. When Sandhya discovers about her husband's past post his death, she realises she didn't know the man at all. What she thought is his nature as a person was something else in totality. While discovering about her husband, Sandhya also knows how he was forced into this marriage despite being in love with someone else (Sayani Gupta). Despite being a highly-educated person, she is constrained to the four walls. She becomes an English tutor to her brother-in-law whereas she can seek a high-level job easily. The patriarch of the family (Raghubir Yadav) shows that he is broad-minded but shows the typical mindset of seeing a person of another religion living under the same roof during the mourning period. Her cutlery is also separated from the rest of the people and expects her to eat from outside. The gossipmongers of the family assemble like a WhatsApp group to talk behind Sandhya and her parents who are staying with her until the thirteenth day of the death. Pagglait touches upon many important subjects still existing in the country which need a few unlearning in the process. The film talks about how money is above all, the higher the girl is educated, the more well-earned guy she can get married to. Coming to performances, Sanya Malhotra is a natural actor and her straight face dialogue delivery is on-point. She carries the film on her shoulders like a boss and gets effortless support from the stellar supporting cast.

Oprah Winfrey asked Aishwarya Rai why she has never kissed on screen, Abhishek Bachchan’s answer had everyone in splits

Oprah Winfrey’s interview with Priyanka Chopra was all the buzz recently. In 2009, she had sat down with Aishwarya Rai Bachchan and Abhishek Bachchan for an interview after their wedding and the discussion had made to the headlines. Oprah had asked why Aishwarya, despite a successful career of so many years and foray in Hollywood, has decided to have a no-kissing clause. “I understand you have never been kissed on camera,” she had asked the former Miss World. In her reply, Aishwarya had laughed and said ‘Go on baby’ after which Abhishek gave her a peck on the cheek. As everyone laughed, Abhishek said, “Not a lot of it happens on camera in India as openly as it does in West. It is not about will it be accepted or not, it is not required. A lot of Indian audience doesn’t think it is required. To put it this way, if we make up a scene, boy meets girl, they fall in love, they want to express their love and they kiss. In India, we will have a song. They have this intimate moment, and cut, you are in the middle of the mountains and you are singing and dancing.” With Oprah and the audience in splits, the actor insisted that he will rather have the song any day as it was far more interesting. Oprah had also asked Abhishek how he popped the question to Aishwarya. “I was filming in New York for a movie and I used to stand on the balcony of my hotel room and wish that one day, it would be nice if I was together with her, married. So, I took her to the very same balcony and asked her to marry me,” Abhishek said as Aishwarya added, “It was very sweet. It was very real at the same time.”

Sara Ali Khan showers love on dad Saif Ali Khan in the most unusual way

Sara Ali Khan's Instagram page can be described as 'quirky'. The actor flaunts her stylish and cute side with the funniest captions and everyone including her fans and celebs laud her for it. Sara, on Sunday, took to her Instagram story and shared a photo clicked on the sets of Atrangi Re. She is seen looking beautiful in a white salwar suit with a pair of juttis. Sara is seen sitting in front of a tea stall. An interesting fact is that the tea stall is named 'Saif Chai Wala' and Sara couldn't contain her excitement on seeing it. She posed at the stall and showered love on her dad and actor Saif Ali Khan. Sara posted a GIF of 'I love my Dad' along with 'Chai addict' citing her love for tea too. During a recent interaction with Elle India, Sara had opened up on spending time with Saif. She had said, "I remember this vacation with him in Italy, which was all about pizza, pasta, culture, museums, music and plays – this is something my father and I really, really enjoy. We both are history nerds, and we laugh about the fact that we discuss Hitler and Stalin more than films and Bollywood." Meanwhile, on the work front, Sara will next be seen in Aanand L Rai directorial Atrangi Re. The actor recently wrapped the shoot of the film co-starring Akshay Kumar and Dhanush. Atrangi Re is slated to release in August this year.

RHEA CHAKRABORTY’S NEW POST CELEBRATES POWER OF LOVE, SAYS IT NEVER FADES DESPITE ‘ADVERSITY AND GRIEF’

Actor Rhea Chakraborty shared a picture with a caption that read, “Love is power.” The photo features Rhea caught in a candid moment with her friend Nidhi Parmar Hiranandani. The two are seen trying to make a heart with their hands. Quoting Rober Fulghum, Chakraborty wrote, “‘Love is a fabric which never fades, no matter how often it is washed in the water of adversity and grief’” Nidhi, in response to the post, dropped a heart emoji in the comment section. The picture was originally posted by Nidhi in December. Sharing the picture, the producer wrote, “Always fierce, always together.” Rhea’s latest Instagram update comes two weeks after she posted a picture of her hand holding her mother’s hand. The picture was dropped on the occasion of International Women’s Day. “Maa and me .. together forever ... my strength, my faith, my fortitude – my Maa,” she wrote as the caption. Rhea is all set to make her Bollywood comeback with Chehre, which stars Amitabh Bachchan and Emraan Hashmi in the lead role. However, the makers refrained from promoting her. Even the trailer shows Rhea in a blink-and-miss appearance. Talking about Rhea’s absence, Chehre producer Anand Pandit said that while the public scrutiny never affected his decision to retain the actor in the film, he knew the media attention could take a toll on Rhea if she participated in public engagements for the film. “A lot of issues have happened in Rhea’s life over the last one year. I never wanted to give another turmoil to her... till the time she is not comfortable (promoting the film). For my project or benefit, I don’t want to create ripples in somebody’s life. “Since the beginning I was committed that Rhea would be a part of the film irrespective of what happens. The whole cast and crew praised my stand that I would have her in the film. There was no question of replacing her or shortening her role. But we decided that we will bring her (in public) at an appropriate time, whenever she is comfortable. I asked her if this was okay with her. Our conscience was pure. I was not fearing any backlash,” the producer said in an interview with indianexpress.com.

VIRAT KOHLI'S INDIAN TEAM BEAT ENGLAND IN A NAIL-BITER TO CLINCH ODI SERIES 2-1

INDIA BEAT ENGLAND BY 7 RUNS IN THE FINAL ODI OF THE THREE-MATCH SERIES AS SAM CURRAN TRIED HIS BEST TO DEFY THE HOSTS TILL THE LAST OVER.

Team India defeated the England side in a nail-biter at the Maharashtra Cricket Association (MCA) Stadium in Pune by just seven runs in the final over to clinch the series 2-1. It didn't seem like the England side will take the game that far as they were struggling at a couple of moments, however, all-rounder Sam Curran defied all odds as he stayed unbeaten on 95 off just 83 balls as he notched up his maiden ODI half-century in the third ODI. India had a fabulous start in the second innings as pacer Bhuvneshwar Kumar removed the two openers Jason Roy and Jos Buttler early before Ben Stokes and Dawid Malan kept the Indian bowlers at the bay for a few overs. Stokes lived a charmed life as he was dropped once and was almost run-out once but his luck ran out as he tried to slog left-arm pacer T Natarajan's full toss. It didn't take time for India to get England's stand-in captain Jos Buttler as the breakthrough specialist Shardul Thakur got him trapped in front of the wickets and India got their fourth wicket in an inspiring review. After which, Dawid Malan and Liam Livingstone stitched a 60-run partnership to help England come back into the game. But losing two quick wickets pegged them back again and India were now on the top. But Sam Curran stood like a wall and along with Adil Rashid kept the scorecard ticking as the run-rate was never out of England's reach. Curran brought up his first half-century but a stunning catch by skipper Kohli meant, Thakur broke the partnership again. Then, Mark Wood joined the forces and the two continued to frustrate the Indian side. But in the end, it proved to be too much for him in the end even when he kept India at the bay staying unbeaten on 95. Earlier, India were bundled out for 329 in 48.2 overs after England came back in the last 10 overs to take last six Indian wickets for just 73 runs. Openers Rohit Sharma and Shikhar Dhawan stitched a 103-run partnership after which they went through a mini collapse losing four wickets. The collapse was followed by a blitzkrieg from Rishabh Pant and Hardik Pandya as the hard-hitting duo forged a quick 99-run partnership but after that the lower order couldn't offer much resistance as they kept losing wickets and eventually were all out.

THISARA PERERA BECOMES FIRST SRI LANKAN TO HIT SIX SIXES IN AN OVER

All-rounder Thisara Perera became the first Sri Lankan to hit six sixes in an over in any form of professional cricket during a domestic tournament near in Colombo. The 31-year-old achieved the feat during his unbeaten 13-ball 52 while captaining Sri Lanka Army in a group match against Bloomfield Cricket and Athletic Club in the Major Clubs Limited Over List A tournament at the Army Ground in Panagoda town on Sunday. His knock, which had eight sixes in it, was also the second-fastest half-century by a Sri Lankan in List A cricket, after former Sri Lanka all-rounder Kaushalya Weeraratne's 12-ball fifty in 2005. Perera came in to bat at No. 5 with 20 balls remaining in their innings that was truncated to 41-overs-a-side. Part-time off-spinner Dilhan Cooray was the bowler at the receiving end of Perera's onslaught. Perera is the ninth cricketer in the world to have achieved this feat in professional cricket, after Garfield Sobers, Ravi Shastri, Herschelle Gibbs, Yuvraj Singh, Ross Whiteley, Hazratullah Zazai, Leo Carter and recently Kieron Pollard.

Rishabh Pant is the future, can't imagine an Indian side without him: Ian Bell

"I can't imagine an Indian side without Rishabh Pant in it," says former England batsman Ian Bell and calls the swash-buckling wicketkeeper-batsman a "rare talent", who played with a lot of maturity against the Englishmen recently. Making a comeback into the Indian white-ball side, Pant was promoted to No. 4 and the 23-year-old did not disappoint. He scored two half-centuries in the two ODIs.

'He has shades of MS Dhoni': Jos Buttler on Sam Curran's valiant 95-run knock England stand-in skipper Jos Buttler saw shades of the 'great finisher' Mahendra Singh Dhoni in Sam Curran's valiant 95 not out that went in vain as India sealed the ODI series 2-1 by winning the third and final match here on Sunday. In a nerve-racking series decider, Curran, coming out to bat at number 8, led a fine England fight back after they were seven wickets down for 200 to revive the visitors' hopes of chasing down 330 but eventually fell short by seven runs. With all eyes will now be on the IPL beginning on April 9, Buttler believes Curran, who is in the Dhoni-led Chennai Super Kings, will have a great opportunity to talk to the former India captain. "I'm sure Sam would want to talk to MS about tonight's innings," Buttler said at the virtual post-match news conference. "I'm sure there were shades of the way that he (MS Dhoni) would have liked to take the game down if he was in that situation. He's a great person for Sam to have a conversation with when he meets up MS (in the IPL)." England all-rounder Moeen Ali will also play for CSK in the IPL.

ROHIT SHARMA-SHIKHAR DHAWAN BECOMES SECOND INDIAN PAIR TO ACHIEVE THIS MASSIVE RECORD

Team India opening pair of Rohit Sharma and Shikhar Dhawan went past 5000 partnership runs in the ODIs on Sunday in the decider of the three-match series against England in Pune. Rohit and Shikhar stitched a 103-run partnership on just 14.4 overs to give India a much-needed fast start to challenge this marauding England's batting line-up. With those 103 runs, Rohit and Shikhar took their partnership runs tally to 5023 runs in the ODIs. By the virtue of the same, they became the second Indian pair to score 5000-plus runs as an opening partnership after Sachin Tendulkar and Sourav Ganguly, who are on the top of the pile with 8227 runs. The former legendary batting pair has batted together in 176 innings and average 47.55 with 26 100-plus and 29 5-plus stands. While Rohit-Shikhar average 45.25 with 17 100-run partnerships and 15 50-plus stands. Earlier, after losing the toss for the third time in the ongoing series India were put in to bat and rectifying their batting approach from the last game, India started their innings in an aggressive manner even if it meant risking losing wickets.

Community Update

Spring 2021

Message from Osler's President & CEO

COVID-19 has been part of our lives for one year now. As we reflect on this milestone, we are reminded of both the tragedies and the triumphs of the last 12 months. And, with the arrival of the vaccine, we also look ahead to brighter days.

Osler is proud to continue to provide patient-inspired health care without boundaries to the community through this pandemic, and beyond. You can count on us, as you always have, for safe, high-quality, compassionate care.

We want to thank the community for your support of Osler over the past year. Your commitment to the fight against COVID-19 has helped us to accomplish so much. We opened multiple testing centres and a dedicated COVID-19 Cold and Flu Clinic. We expanded and introduced new virtual care services so people can access care from home. We're pleased to be playing a critical role in the vaccination of eligible residents in our catchment area. And, we are in the process of resuming some scheduled surgical services and procedures.

The challenges aren't over. But we're confident that if we continue to work together, both inside and outside our hospital walls, we will get through this. Thank you for inspiring us, every day, to make Osler an exceptional place to work and provide care.

Dr. Naveed Mohammad
President & CEO, William Osler Health System

A global first: New technology brings faster diagnosis to cancer patients

For patients with cancer, the faster they are diagnosed, the sooner they can start potentially life-saving treatment. Osler is now the first hospital in the world to offer genetic testing through 'rapid comprehensive next generation sequencing' – a rapid examination of the genetic changes inside a tumor.

This ground-breaking technology allows Osler physicians the ability to provide patients with a diagnosis in days instead of weeks. In the area of oncology, this is a game-changer. With rapid genetic testing and care being offered at the same hospital, patients have a seamless health care journey with the best technology and treatments available closer to home.

Visiting the Emergency Department? Check Osler's Emergency Department wait times online

Find out how long you can expect to wait to see a doctor or nurse practitioner at Brampton Civic Hospital and Etobicoke General Hospital Emergency Departments (ED).

Osler's new 'ED Wait Clocks' show:

- the current estimated wait time
- how many patients are being treated
- how many patients are waiting to be treated
- predicted wait times over a 24-hour period

The ED Wait Clocks are intended for patients with conditions or symptoms that may not require immediate care. Anyone who is in need of emergency care should immediately come to the Emergency Department or call 911. Visit: www.williamoslerhs.ca.

Osler launches new Virtual Urgent Care: See a physician from the comfort of home

Osler has launched its new Virtual Urgent Care service for patients with urgent, non-life threatening medical issues such as minor cuts, sprains and head injuries, new abdominal pain, cough, nasal congestion, and cold symptoms.

Patients, aged 14 and older, with a valid OHIP card and live within a one-hour travel radius of an Osler hospital site can now book same-day virtual appointments through Osler's website at www.williamoslerhs.ca/virtual-urgent-care. A safe, convenient alternative to in-person care, Emergency Department physicians see patients virtually through this service and, if necessary, order x-rays, ultrasounds or other diagnostics to help expedite care and reduce ED wait times.

Osler's Emergency Departments at Brampton Civic Hospital and Etobicoke General Hospital remain open 24/7 and anyone in need of emergency care should immediately come to the Emergency Department or call 911.
