'Ankita Lokhande visited us in Mumbai as well as Patna', confirms Sushant Singh Rajput's father

Sushant Singh Rajput's father KK Singh recently spoke about the actor's ex-girlfriend Ankita Lokhande. He said that while Ankita visited him in Mumbai, she also flew down to Patna to offer condolences to Sushant's family. According to a report on BollywoodLife, Sushant's father spoke about Ankita and revealed, "Ha wo aayi bhi thi, Bombay bhi aayi thi aur Patna bhi aayi thi." (Yes, she had come to visit in Mumbai and in Patna as well). Talking about Sushant's relationship with Ankita, he said it was god's will. "Yeh toh sanjog hai, jo hona hota hai hota hai," he added. KK Singh also said that Kriti Sanon was the only person who spoke to him at Sushant's funeral. He assumed that Kriti called him 'pyaara ladka'.

After Taapsee Pannu, Huma Qureshi shocked by Rs 50,000 power bill, electricity company explains the reason

After Taapsee Pannu, Vir Das and Dino Morea, more celebrities living in Mumbai have complained of inflated electricity bills for the month of June. On Monday, Huma Qureshi wrote in a tweet that she received a bill for Rs 50,000.

“What are these new electricity rates ?? @Adani_Elec_Mum. Last month I paid 6k .. and this month 50 k ????! What is this new price surge ?? Kindly enlighten us,” she wrote in a tweet. Hum Apke Hain Koun actor Renuka Shahane also complained, tweeting: “Dear @Adani_Elec_Mum I got a bill of Rs 5510/on the 9th of May while in June I got a bill of Rs 29,700 combining May & June where you’ve charged me Rs 18080 for the month of May. How did Rs.5510/become Rs.18080.”

Ranvir Shorey wrote: “The 21st century, a free market and a pandemic are apparently not enough for us to still be held to ransom by electric power companies like @Adani_Elec_Mum #scam #shame.” Amyra Dastur wrote, “I freaking shifted to my mom and dad’s house in April! They’ve been charging my flat which I haven’t lived in for 3 months, double of what I would pay actually living there! Mine is best. Do you know how to stop this nonsense.”

The electricity provider said in a statement that the bills are so high as they are collecting arrears for the low rate charged in the last three months. “We have re-started physical meter reading which was temporarily halted since March because of Covid-19. Bills were generated on the lower side, being an average of preceding three months – that is, December, January and February, which are winter months. Actual consumption in the months of April, May and June is comparatively higher due to seasonal impact (summer) and increased usage (advent of Lockdown/WfH),” said a spokesperson of Adani Electricity Mumbai Limited (AEML).

“The bill amount for the past period shall be accounted as per Maharashtra Electricity Regulatory Commission (MERC) guidelines. The consumers will start receiving the bills based on their actual consumption with appropriate tariff slab benefits,” they added.

Celina Jaitley on Sushant Singh Rajput’s death: ‘A great talent who probably would have won India’s first Oscar’

Celina Jaitley, who recently made a successful comeback to acting with Season’s Greetings, has said that she battled depression after the death of her parents and newborn son. “Depression is an illness and it can be triggered into its worst forms by the energies that surround you,” she said, “Depression is a disease, it doesn’t choose people by their level of success or how they look or how rich or how poor they are. It can happen to anyone. It is not just a passing fancy – like people say my exam went bad and I am ‘depressed’. Depression can happen at any age to anyone, it is a clinical disease and must be treated. One must get support system and it must not be ignored.” She called the death of actor Sushant Singh Rajput a tremendous loss. Sushant died on June 14 by suicide; he was suffering from depression. Sharing grief on the death of the actor, Celina told Hindustan

Times, “It is very sad because it is such a loss of such great talent. It is such a loss of somebody’s son, somebody’s loved one, someone’s brother and it’s a great loss to a film industry. A great talent who probably in the future would have won India’s first Oscar (as best actor), you never know. We will never get to know what capabilities someone like Sushant would have brought to the table.”

Celina says it was the support of her husband and doctors that helped her get through it. “I was surrounded by people who cared about me. My husband took great care of me. I got help from doctors. I’m not over it but I’m in a much better place,” she says.

Celina is married to Austrian entrepreneur and hotelier Peter Haag. The two are parents to eight-year-old twin boys Winston and Viraj and two-year-old son Arthur.

Disgusting that Sushant’s death is being used for ulterior motives: Swara Bhasker

While after Sushant Singh Rajput’s death, the discussions about nepotism and insiders-outsiders in Bollywood have sparked an outrage, a video, where actor Swara Bhasker is seen asking filmmaker Karan Johar about nepotism has gone viral. “We should have difficult conversations but there is a civilised way to do it. Right now, things are being said, and people are being blamed but Karan being vilified is unnecessary. I don’t think Karan, Alia (Bhatt), Sonam (Kapoor) had anything to do with what happened with Sushant’s career. It’s not a fair accusation,” says the Veere Di Wedding (2018) actor, adding, “In the video, one can see that Karan is accepting that he might have chosen people who were right in front of him and things should change. I would like to give him credit for engaging with the issue. But the way things have happened was quite sad. It’s disgusting that Sushant’s death is being used for ulterior motives by some people. We must give Sushant dignity in his death and celebrate his life. He was a tremendous artiste.”

Bhasker feels mental health needs to be the focus of discussions as depression is a serious issue. “One shouldn’t trivialise it by saying, people get depressed because they weren’t invited for a party or because someone gave a stupid answer about their on a chat show. If that is your understanding, then you don’t know what depression is,” she states.

While she has made her mark in films with films like Nil Batte Sannata (2016), Anaarkali of Aarah (2017), Veere Di Wedding (2018) among others, Bhasker has also been vocal about a number of political issues. Ask her if her political ideologies and stand affects her career and vice-versa. She says, “If you are a woman, and a woman in a public sphere, you will be trolled for some or the other reason. I can’t control what is offered to me. Of course, in every actor’s career, there are movies that didn’t turn out or perform as expected. I might not have got my due in the industry but I am grateful that people respect my voice and that I have an identity and credibility as a person. After ten years in the industry, I could have done more work, yet I feel proud of my body of work.” Bhasker is thrilled that her recent web show, Rasbhari, has got a positive response, “along with some trolling too”. She says, “Most people get that the show is not about sex but looking at a deeper issue, which is adolescent sexuality in a repressed society, and of the fear that our society has of female sexuality. That’s why it tries to vilify that. All the risqué roles that I have done - be it Anaarkali of Aarah (2017), Veere Di Wedding (2018)- we have discussed a larger picture. It shows the reality of society. Like in Rasbhari, my character, Shanoo, a teacher is teaching the adolescent student that women are humans first. In the first few episodes, the boys look at her as a sexual object but once he gets to know her, he sees her a person, and doesn’t objectify her. She teaches him about respect, honesty and consent.”

Anushka Sharma on her journey from young girl to producer: ‘I chose to dive into work as a teenager, have been growing since’

Actor and film producer Anushka Sharma is feeling proud of her accomplishments. On Monday, she shared throwback pictures from her childhood, and recalled her journey over the years. Her post is a photo collage showing how she also grew into her own just like the lead character from her latest production, Bulbbul. The photos show Bulbbul and herself as young girls and grown women. “The story of Bulbbul is the story of a girl’s journey from innocence to strength and resilience...and it’s a story I’m all too familiar with. Getting to be a part of the modelling industry at the young age of 15 had a lasting impression on me. My dad was a very big influence, always pushing me to work harder and sharing positive affirmations about life and growth,” Anushka captioned her post.

“From understanding how the industry works to turning into a producer when I was just 25, I started Clean Slate Filmz with a vision to tell the best stories out there. Working with newer faces and fresh talent has definitely given me a new kind of perspective. We are all constantly growing, changing and evolving as humans and there’s a quiet strength to that,” she added.

“I chose to dive into work when I was a teenager and I’ve been growing ever since. The early start has taught me a lot and I choose to apply that wisdom in my personal and professional life every day,” she ended her post.

Anushka has produced multiple films such as NH10, Phillauri and Pari, starring herself in the lead. Her last two projects--Paatal Lok and Bulbbul--released on Amazon Prime and Netflix, respectively. Paatal Lok starred Jaideep Ahlawat and Neeraj Kabi in the lead while Bulbbul stars Tripti Dimri. Anushka has said she was always clear about backing genuine talent in her ventures.

Kartik Aaryan shares pic from when he jumped a fence to meet Sagarika Ghatge: ‘Told her to say my hi to Shah Rukh Khan’

Actor Kartik Aaryan gets swarmed with fans asking for selfies, every time he steps out. But did you know that he used to be such a Bollywood fan himself?

On Monday, Kartik shared a throwback picture from when he met actor Sagarika Ghatge and managed to click a selfie with her. “2008 Mumbai Marathon! I jumped barricades to take a pic with Preeti Sabharwal #sagarikaghatge and also told her ‘Shah Rukh Khan ko mera Hi bolna’ @iamsrk sir did she convey my message?” Kartik tweeted. Sagarika worked with Shah Rukh in the hit sports drama Chak De! India. In the photo, Kartik look unrecognisable in his long, shaggy hair, flashing a smile for the camera. Sagarika is seen in a white cap, smiling for a picture with her fan, Kar tik. Kartik made his Bollywood debut three years later in 2011 with Pyaar Ka PUNCHnama. He then went on to star in Pyaar ka PUNCHnama 2, Sonu Ke Titu Ki Sweeti, Pati Patni Aur Woh and other films. He currently has Bhool Bhulaiyya 2 and Dostana 2 in his kitty.

Sadak 2 poster: Alia Bhatt says Mahesh Bhatt wanted only Mount Kailash on poster for this reason

Actor Alia Bhatt shared the first poster for her upcoming film, Sadak 2, during a live session with Disney+ Hotstar on Monday evening. The poster showed a solitary road leading to Mount Kailash. Sharing the poster, Alia said she asked her father and film director Mahesh Bhatt if it would not be better to feature the actors on the poster. She then pulled out a note which was Mahesh's reasoning behind the featuring only the mountain. "Mount Kailash, the ageless mountain, has the footprints of gods and sages. It is the abode of god of all gods, Lord Shiva. So do we really need anything else? Or actors in that sacred space? Since the beginning of time, humanity found its shelter in Kailash. This is a place where all search ends. Sadak two is a road to love. This sequel to Sadak will take you on the mother of all love pilgrimages," she said.

Sadak 2 also stars Sanjay Dutt, Pooja Bhatt and Aditya Roy Kapur. It takes off where the original left and will feature a very different kind of 'villain' this time. "The story of Ravi (Sanjay) will move forward. He meets these two new people (Alia-Aditya). The film has different love stories and also has (an element of) thrill. The villain is someone very different and totally unexpected," Alia said. Working on the film was a homecoming in its true sense, Alia said. "That the whole family is coming to make a film together. That emotion is of another level altogether... I always wanted to be pictured in a song from the Bhatt camp, which has been famous for its music," she added. The original followed a taxi driver (Sanjay) trying to rescue the woman he loves (Pooja) from a brothel. It also featured Sadashiv Amrapurkar as the iconic villain Maharani, the brothel owner and actor Soni Razdan, Alia's mother.

Bhuj The pride of India posters: Ajay Devgn is ready for the fight, Sanjay Dutt's first look out

New posters of Ajay Devgn's upcoming movie, Bhuj The Pride of India, were shared on Monday as it was announced that the film will release on Disney+ Hotstar later this year. Directed by Abhishek Dudhaiya, the film stars Sanjay Dutt and Sonakshi Sinha in pivotal roles. Other films that will stream on the platform include Akshay Kumar's Laxmmi Bomb, Alia Bhatt's Sadak 2 and Vidyut Jammwal's Khuda Hafiz. Talking about the direct-to-digital release, Ajay said in a virtual press conference, "The film is based on a true story. The story is about one day and one night. It tells this story of common people who rebuilt a road overnight to help the armed forces during the 1971 war. We need to have more stories of such bravery and valour." Ajay Devgn plays an Indian Air Force (IAF) pilot in the film and the poster shows him in uniform. Earlier, the director had shared the first look of the film on Twitter on the first day of the new year, "It's a privilege to present @ajaydevgn sir's first look as Sq. Ld. Vijay Karnik from my upcoming directorial film #BhujThePrideOfIndia . #14Aug2020." The film was slated for an Independence Day release this year before theatres were shutdown due to the coronavirus pandemic. Bhuj: The Pride Of India tells the story of 300 women from Madhapar village of Gujarat's Kutch district, who played a pivotal role in helping India win the war. The women came together to rebuild and repair the only runway in Bhuj, which was crucial for the war. The film also stars Ammy Virk and South Indian actor Pranitha Subhash. Speaking about working with Ajay Devgn, she had earlier told IANS: "Ajay sir is so disciplined on sets. He is so natural when it comes to acting and the best thing about him is that as soon as the director says action, he gets into the character and gets out of it as soon as the director says cut. There was so much to learn from him and I feel blessed to have worked with him in my first Bollywood film." The film is slated to hit theatres on August 14.

Kunal Kemmu demands 'equal playing field', fans wonder if it's about Disney+ Hotstar not inviting him to represent his film

After Vidyut Jammwal, Kunal Kemmu also appears to have voiced his displeasure at being ignored by Disney+ Hotstar, in a cryptic tweet. Kunal's film Lootcase is part of the seven films that will get a direct-to-digital release on Disney+ Hotstar, however, he was not invited to the live launch event on Monday. "Izzat aur pyaar maanga nahi kamaya jaata hai. Koi na de toh usse hum chhote nahi hote. Bas maidaan khelne ke liye barabar de do chhalaang hum bhi oonchi laga sakte hai (Respect and love can never be asked for, only earned. If someone doesn't give it to you, it doesn't make you small. Just give us an equal playing field, we'll show you how high we can leap)," he wrote in his tweet. Bhuj, Sadak 2, Laxmmi Bomb, The Big Bull and Dil Bechara are other films that are on the list. The event was joined by Abhishek Bachchan, Alia Bhatt, Akshay Kumar, Ajay Devgn and Varun Dhawan. Fans were quick to ask if he was talking about being ignored by the streamer. "It was very unfair of @DisneyplusHSVIP to not have you and Vidyut on their Multiplex announcement event. You too should get a platform to promote your movie Lootcase like other actors. But stay assured that all this will change soon," read a reply. "I can feel the hurt. @DisneyPlusHS should have atleast called you and @VidyutJammwal for the #BollywoodKiHomeDelivery announcement," read another. Earlier on Monday, Vidyut had written in a tweet that seven films have been selected for the release but only five of them got any representation. He said his film Khuda Hafiz did not get an invite. "A BIG announcement for sure!! 7 films scheduled for release but only 5 are deemed worthy of representation. 2 films, receive no invitation or intimidation. It's a long road ahead. THE CYCLE CONTINUES," he wrote.

Richa Chadha apologises for calling someone bipolar in a tweet last year: 'Beginning to grasp what mental health means'

Actor Richa Chadha got a lot of love from her fans for apologising for a tweet she made a year ago. Fans appreciated her for realising her mistake without being reminded or called out for it. Richa wrote in a tweet on Monday that she regretted calling someone 'bipolar' in a tweet. "I think last year I made a joke about someone being 'bipolar'. The joke was borne out of a petulant desire to seem witty in even less than 280 characters. As I am now only beginning to grasp what #mentalhealth means, I just want to apologise and couldn't have said this sooner," she wrote. Her followers reacted positively. "I'm bipolar. On behalf of everyone with my condition I hereby commit you to being pardoned," wrote one. "Very brave of you to admit something that might well have gone out of the public memory, Richa @RichaChadha. Not for nothing do we respect you," wrote another. "Takes a real man/woman to own up to their mistakes. You go, girl," read another comment. In December 2018, Richa had shared a tweet about Nawazuddin Siddiqui's performance in Thackeray when she used the word. "Are ee humara Faisal toh bipolar nikla be (Wow, my Faisal turned out to be bipolar)," she had written. Nawazuddin played Richa's son in Gangs of Wasseypur and late Shiv Sena leader Bal Thackeray in Thackeray. Richa is currently in self isolation at her Mumbai home. She was supposed to get married to her boyfriend Ali Fazal this summer but their plans were ruined due to the coronavirus pandemic. These days, Richa is spending her time reading books.

‘ROHIT SHARMA PROBABLY AMONG TOP 3 OR 5 OPENERS OF ALL TIME’: FORMER INDIA CAPTAIN’S REMARKABLE PRAISE FOR BATSMAN

Former India batsman Kris Srikkanth believes Rohit Sharma is a strong contender to be in the top three or five openers of all time. As an opener, Rohit has scored 7148 runs from 140 ODIs at an average of 58.11 with 27 centuries, whereas in T20Is, he’s tallied 2313 runs from 76 innings and slammed four centuries, the most by a player in the format. In fact, earlier this year, Rohit became the fastest to 7000 ODI runs as opener, leaving behind Sachin Tendulkar and South Africa’s Hashim Amla

“He is definitely, probably is in the top three or five all-time greatest openers as far as one-day cricket is concerned,” Srikkanth said on the Cricket Connected Show on Star Sports.

Last year, he was the world’s leading ODI run-getter with 1490 runs. Named the ICC ODI Cricketer of the Year for 2019, Rohit became the first player in history to score five ODI centuries in a single edition of the World Cup. He surpassed MS Dhoni to hit the maximum number of sixes in international matches on Indian soil.

“I think I would rate him as one of the greatest all-time one-day openers in world cricket,” Srikkanth said. “What’s the greatest quality in Rohit Sharma is that he goes for these big hundreds and double hundreds, that is something amazing. In a one-day cricket match, you will go 150, 180, 200, just imagine where you are going to take the team to, that’s the greatness about Rohit Sharma.”

HAFEEZ, RIAZ AMONG SIX PAKISTAN PLAYERS CLEARED TO TOUR ENGLAND

Six Pakistan cricketers, including former captain Mohammad Hafeez, have been cleared to join rest of the team in England after returning a second negative result in Covid-19 tests, the Pakistan Cricket Board (PCB) said on Tuesday.

Fakhar Zaman, Mohammad Hasnain, Mohammad Rizwan, Shadab Khan and Wahab Riaz also tested negative for the second time in three days and would join rest of the team in Worcestershire. “The PCB will now start making their travel arrangements and the departure details will be shared in due course,” the PCB added.

Four other players - Kashif Bhatti, Haris Rauf, Haider Ali and Imran Khan - tested positive for the second time earlier this week. The first batch of Pakistan players underwent Covid-19 testing on their arrival in Manchester on Sunday before moving to Worcestershire for a 14-day isolation period.

Pakistan are scheduled to play three tests and three Twenty20 internationals behind closed doors in August-September. The exact dates and venues have not been announced yet.

My style won’t change if given role of captaincy in absence of Root: Stokes

Star all-rounder Ben Stokes says he won’t change his playing approach even if he is handed England’s captaincy in the absence of regular skipper Joe Root for the Test series-opener against the West Indies. Vice-captain Stokes is being speculated to replace Root, who is taking leave to be with his wife for the birth of their second child, for the first Test at Southampton from July 8.

“I hope that I always try to set the example in terms of attitude and commitment. If I am in charge that’s not going to change the way that I go about things,” Stokes was quoted as saying by the BBC. Stokes had a phenomenal run in the past one year as he helped England to World Cup final victory and played a key role in his side’s stunning Ashes win over Australia at Headingley.

The 29-year-old, who has played 63 Tests since 2013, says positivity influences his conduct on the field and that will continue. “In terms of how I want to influence the game, I try to have a positive effect with the ball or bat in my hand. No matter what I do in terms of choosing what to do in a situation, it will always be the positive route,” the Durham all-rounder said.

If Stokes is given the captaincy, he will be first all-rounder since Andrew Flintoff to lead England and 81st skipper overall. He was named vice-captain in 2017 but he lost the position following the Bristol nightclub incident that year. “Getting the opportunity to captain England is a huge honour - even if it’s only the once you can still say ‘yeah, I’ve captained England’.

“It’s a huge honour to think about, and something I’m really looking forward to if the opportunity presents itself, but also at the same time I know I’m only stepping in for the one game because of Joe’s personal situation.” Stokes does not have experience of leading a side but would bank on support from his experienced players.

SRI LANKA ORDERS CRIMINAL PROBE INTO 2011 WORLD CUP FINAL FIXING ALLEGATIONS: REPORT

A couple of weeks after former Sri Lanka sports minister Mahindananda Aluthgamage claimed that Sri Lanka ‘sold’ the World Cup 2011 final to ensure victory for India, Sri Lanka government has reportedly ordered a criminal probe into the allegations. “A criminal investigation has begun,” KDS Ruwanchandra, the secretary to the sports ministry, was quoted as saying by news agency AFP.

The issue was sprung up earlier this month when in an interview with local TV channel ‘Sirasa’, Aluthgamage, who was Sri Lanka sports minister at the time, said that the 2011 World Cup final between India and Sri Lanka was fixed. “Today I am telling you that we sold the 2011 world cup, I said this when I was the sports minister,” Aluthgamage had said.

The news agency AFP also had cited local reports from Sri Lanka claiming that former Sri Lanka captain Aravinda de Silva, who was the chief selector of the team for the 2011 finals, was summoned for an interview with the investigators on Tuesday. De Silva, in a column on The Sunday Times earlier this month had refuted the allegations, and urged SLC, BCCI and the ICC to investigate the matter to clear out any doubts on the subject. “We cannot let people get away all the time with lies. I request everyone, ICC, BCCI, and SLC to investigate this immediately. “Just like we cherished our World Cup victory, players like Sachin (Tendulkar) cherish these moments for the rest of their lives. I think in the interest of Sachin and the millions of cricket fans across India, it’s the duty of the Indian government and their cricket board to initiate an impartial inquiry to see whether they have won a fixed World Cup,” he had written in his column.

‘WARNE LIKE A KID AT SCHOOL WITH NO MATES’: LEE REVEALS WHAT STEVE WAUGH JOKINGLY TOLD HIM

As Shane Warne and Steve Waugh continue to trade barbs over their frosty relationship, Shane Lee has revealed how the former Australia captain joked that the ex-Australia leg-spinner was like “the kid at school with no mates” in the dressing room during the 1996 World Cup. Lee, who was selected in Australia’s World Cup squad as a 23-year-old, explained how Warne was extremely warm to him before Waugh, who wasn’t the captain of the side, pulled him aside and offered a suggestion. “I remember the ‘96 World Cup. I was selected as a 23-year-old all-rounder. And Warne was really nice and took me in. He said, ‘It’s going to be the Shane show, you and me, the Shane show’.” Lee, the older brother of Brett Lee, said on the Betoota Advocate podcast.

“Steve Waugh pulled me aside and said, ‘How you going with Warne?’ I said he’s being really nice to me and Waugh said, ‘Do you remember when you were at school and there was a kid at school that had no mates and this new kid comes to school and that kid with no mates is all over that new kid? You’re that new kid and Warne’s the kid with no mates.’” It’s not secret that the two cricketers weren’t the best of buddies. Warne and Waugh’s strained relationship recently came to the spotlight again. Warne called Waugh “the most selfish cricketer” in a tweet before the former captain fired back a few days later, saying the former leg-spinner’s “comments are a reflection of himself”. However, irrespective of what Waugh has to say about Warne, Lee credited him for having one of the sharpest minds in cricket.

MS Dhoni's captaincy a mix between Sourav Ganguly and Rahul Dravid: Lalchand Rajput

Team India expressed tremendous success under the leadership of MS Dhoni, who built a legacy with his cool and calm style captaincy while leading the charge of the Men In Blue.

Lalchand Rajput, the former Indian team manager during the 2007 T20 World Cup -- Dhoni's first successful stint as skipper -- revealed his experience with the team under the wicketkeeper-batsman's leadership. According to him, Dhoni's style of captaincy is an esculent blend between two former Team India skippers in Sourav Ganguly and Rahul Dravid. "To be very honest Dhoni was very very calm and used to think two steps ahead of the opponent and he was always a thinking captain. He was a mixture of Ganguly and Rahul Dravid," Ganguly said. "Ganguly used to give players the confidence and he was the one who changed the mentality of the Indian team," he added.

The 58-year-old then went on to add how 'Mahi' always showed faith in the youngsters and always helps them to produce their best in games. "So, I think that carried forward with Dhoni because even he gave opportunities to players and if he saw potential in someone he used to give him ample opportunities."

"Dhoni will never show any evasive action on the ground and that helped the players in giving their best," he said.

Since India's semi-final exit from the ICC Cricket World Cup 2019 against New Zealand in August last year, MSD hasn't featured for the Men In Blue. During his break from cricket, the 38-year-old also served for the Indian Army too.

Kane Williamson explains why he sent Martin Guptill, Jimmy Neesham during super over in 2019 World Cup final

The 2019 World Cup final was surely embroiled in many controversies but the New Zealand side earned praises for being gentlemen in the game.

Talking about the super over, New Zealand skipper Kane Williamson explained his thought-process behind sending in Martin Guptill and Jimmy Neesham which was played to decide the winner. The normal 50-over action between England and New Zealand ended in a tie and as a result, a super over was played to decide the winners of the World Cup.

In the super over, England had scored 15 runs, and New Zealand nominated Martin Guptill and Jimmy Neesham to go out to bat.

"I had a very brief discussion with the coach Gary Stead, I had a few guys in my mind who could go out to bat as we were going to bat second in the Super Over, the decision to send out batsmen was dependent on how much we were chasing and who the bowler is probably going to be," Williamson told Ravichandran Ashwin on the spinner's YouTube show titled 'DRS with Ash'.

"It was about giving yourself with the best possible opportunity, Neesham was hitting the ball very well throughout the World Cup and we all know how capable Guptill really is of hitting the ball out of the park, there was a short boundary on one side of the ground. They are both quicks between the 22 yards so this helped too," he added.

Both Guptill and Neesham managed 15 runs in the super over, and on the final ball, Guptill was run-out to end the super over in a tie as well. In the end, England was announced as the winners of the World Cup on the basis of the boundary-countback rule.

"I was padded up to come in at three, it was a different experience to be a part of, both Neesham and Guptill did a good job, Jofra Archer is a remarkable bowler, emotions were so high after the final, it was a long tournament when the time comes and it finishes, it's like of a draining feeling as all of it finishes. The guys were filled with emotion after what really transpired," Williamson said.

With this win, England won their first-ever 50-over World Cup title. Kane Williamson was applauded from all corners as he held his composure after losing the finals by the slightest of margins. The Kiwi skipper was also awarded the 'Player of the Tournament'.

After the final, ICC came under a lot of scrutinies for deciding the result on the basis of the boundary-countback rule. However, this rule was there before the tournament began, and apparently all teams had agreed to it.

BHUVNESHWAR KUMAR LAUDS 'LEGEND' MS DHONI AND 'GOAT' VIRAT KOHLI

Team India cricketer Bhuvneshwar Kumar has lauded teammates, MS Dhoni and Virat Kohli. The Indian pacer recently conducted a Q&A with his fans over on Instagram, where he answered numerous enquires over a wide range of topics.

When asked to share his thoughts on the veteran wicket-keeper batsman, who successfully guided India to all major ICC trophies in his cabinet, Bhuvneshwar labelled him as a legend and said that Dhoni is an even better person.

"Legend and even a better human being," Bhuvneshwar wrote about Dhoni.

When asked to describe the Team India skipper Virat Kohli in one word, 'Bhuvi' called him a GOAT (Greatest Of All Time).

The speedster was also quizzed about who's his favourite footballer better Messi and Ronaldo, to which Bhuvneshwar picked Argentina and Barcelona forward Lionel Messi.

The coronavirus outbreak brought most sports activities to a halt with players practising social distancing and self-isolation during the pandemic.

The World Health Organisation (WHO) and the governments all around are urging people to stay at home.

'Beyond acceptable': Sunil Chhetri condemns alleged custodial deaths of father-son in Tamil Nadu's Thoothukudi

The alleged custodial deaths of a man and his son who were arrested for violating lockdown restrictions in Tamil Nadu's Thoothukudi district on June 19 has sparked protests across parts of the state.

Condemning the act, Indian football team skipper Sunil Chhetri has sought justice for the family, saying that what happened to the father-son duo is 'beyond acceptable'.

"What happened with Jeyaraj and Fenix is beyond acceptable. Nothing will give them their lives back, but justice should set a precedent and a very strong one at that. #JeyarajandFenix," Chhetri tweeted.

P Jayaraj (59) and his son J Benicks (31) were picked up by police and put in Kovilpatti sub-jail on June 21 as they had kept their mobile phone accessories shop in the Sathankulam main bazaar area open during the curfew timing of the coronavirus-induced lockdown.

The father and son were admitted to the Kovilpatti government hospital on June 22. While the son died on the same night, the father breathed his last on June 23 morning.

'WILL ALWAYS REMAIN AN IMPORTANT MILESTONE IN OUR JOURNEY': VIRAT KOHLI RECALLS 2014 ADELAIDE TEST AGAINST AUSTRALIA

Indian skipper Virat Kohli has been a huge fan of the longer format of the game. Leading the Men in Blue in the World Test Championship, Team India are currently sitting at the top with 360 with Australia following on with 296 points.

Talking about the two sides, Kohli in his Instagram post recalled the 2014 Adelaide Test which India went on to lose. In the post, the captain said that despite losing the match, it will always remain an important milestone in our journey of the test side.

He captioned it saying, "Throwback to this very special and important test in our journey as the test team that we are today. Adelaide 2014 was a game filled with emotion on both sides and an amazing one for people to watch too."

"Although we didn't cross the line being so close, it taught us that anything is possible if we put our mind to it because we committed to doing something which seemed very difficult, to begin with but almost pulled it off. All of us committed to it. This will always remain a very important milestone in our journey as a test side".

When it comes to the match, the Aussies were riding on centuries from David Warner, Michael Clarke, and Steve Smith.

Australia surged to 517 before the first overnight declaration and the Indian bowling lacked teeth in the absence of Bhuvneshwar Kumar and Ravi Ashwin.

Kohli led India's strong reply with an exquisite 115 allied to supporting acts from Cheteshwar Pujara (73), Murali Vijay(53) and Ajinkya Rahane(62).

Kohli in the post-press conference said, "I cannot comment on my performance right now. I am really proud of the boys, we took the game till the last day and last hour. The performances of individuals are different, I would have been happy if my hundreds had come in a winning cause.

"I am pretty one dimensional, I know (regarding his positive mindset).

Before the boys went to their rooms last night, I told them that whatever happened has happened, we have to go after the target. They did that, we fell short but I am really proud of the effort".

'So, what now?' Ashwin hilariously trolls David Warner on social media after India bans TikTok

Australian opener David Warner has been spending his quarantine time by making TikToks and dancing to Bollywood songs or reciting popular dialogues.

However, Team India bowler Ravichandran Ashwin recently trolled Warner after the government of India banned 59 Chinese apps, including TikTok.

After the mobile applications got banned, the veteran spinner took to Twitter and hilariously asked Warner "Appo Anwar?" - a very famous dialogue from Rjnikant's 1995 movie "Baashha".

The English translation of the dialogue is, "So, what's David Warner going to do now?"

As per the Indian government's official statement, all these apps are "prejudicial to sovereignty and integrity of India, defence of India, security of state and public order," the government said.

In an order issued under section 69A of the Information Technology Act read with the relevant provisions of the Information Technology (Procedure and Safeguards for Blocking of Access of Information by Public) Rules 2009, the Ministry of Information Technology said it has decided to block 59 apps in view of the emergent nature of threats.

In view of the information available they are engaged in activities which is prejudicial to sovereignty and integrity of India, defence of India, security of state and public order, the order said.

On the basis of these and upon receiving of recent credible inputs that such Apps pose threat to sovereignty and integrity of India, the Government of India has decided to disallow the usage of certain Apps, used in both mobile and non-mobile Internet-enabled devices, it said.

This move will safeguard the interests of crores of Indian mobile and internet users. This decision is a targeted move to ensure safety and sovereignty of Indian cyberspace, it added.

Mohammad Hafeez should confront PCB after second COVID-19 test result came negative: Shoaib Akhtar

Pakistan all-rounder Mohammad Hafeez's coronavirus test from being first positive and then negative has sparked a lot of outrage. Talking about the same, former pacer Shoaib Akhtar has said that Hafeez should have confronted the PCB if he got his second coronavirus test result as negative.

Akhtar said that Hafeez should have confronted the PCB rather than posting his test result on Twitter.

"PCB showed a bit of mismanagement, we just started doing random testing of players, now players have tested positive for coronavirus, the worst-hit area due to coronavirus is maybe Lahore, then it is Karachi. I am sure that if you keep on testing, you will get more and more positive results," Akhtar said on his YouTube channel.

"Now, the tests are done, my advice to Hafeez was to go for the retest, but he should not have posted the result of his second Test on Twitter, he should have confronted the PCB, you should not get on bad terms with the board. The tour of England is important for Pakistan, we need to send our solid team there if we want to win the Test series," he added.

Earlier this week, after testing positive for coronavirus, Hafeez once again underwent the test and on Wednesday revealed, that he has now tested negative.

Hafeez shared the report of his latest coronavirus Test on Twitter and said that he opted to go for another examination for his personal satisfaction.

"After testing positive COVID-19 acc to PCB testing Report yesterday, as 2nd opinion and for satisfaction I personally went to Test it again along with my family, and here I along with my all family members are reported Negative," Hafeez had tweeted.

The PCB had initially planned to send a squad of 29 players to England, but ten players tested positive for coronavirus earlier this week. On Saturday, Wasim Khan, the PCB chief executive, announced that six of those ten players returned negative results when they were tested for the second time. So, as a result, 20 players and 11 members of the support staff will be travelling to England first. The rest of the players will join the squad later after returning two negative tests.

Players who have departed for England-- Azhar Ali (captain), Babar Azam (vice-captain), Abid Ali, Asad Shafiq, Faheem Ashraf, Fawad Alam, Iftikhar Ahmad, Imad Wasim, Imam-ul-Haq, Khushdil Shah, Mohammad Abbas, Musa Khan, Naseem Shah, Rohail Nazir, Sarfaraz Ahmed, Shaheen Shah Afridi, Shan Masood, Sohail Khan, Usman Shinwari, and Yasir Shah.

Ford's redesigned F-150 pickup will offer sleeper seat

DETROIT -- Ford Motor Co. next week will show the next generation of its brawny F-150 pickup truck that offers a new sleeper-seat feature and over-the-air software updates. The new F-150, part of the best-selling vehicle line in the United States, accounts for $50 billion (all figures in USD) in annual revenue, and a significant share of Ford's annual profit. The truck is the top-selling vehicle in Canada and has been the best-selling pickup in Canada for more than 50 years. While Tesla Inc and General Motors Co have moved faster on over-the-air software upgrades and high-speed in-vehicle data networks, the new F-150 will bring such technology squarely into the mainstream. The new truck, expected to launch later this year, is a critical plank in Chief Operating Officer Jim Farley's plan to slash $5 billion in warranty costs, speed Ford's push into vehicle connectivity and add to the No. 2 U.S. automaker's already-strong position in the North American commercial vehicle market.

VIRUS SURGE DUE TO PEAK IN BIG COUNTRIES: WHO

GENEVA: The record levels of new daily COVID-19 cases are due to the fact that the pandemic is peaking in a number of big countries at the same time and reflect a change in the virus' global activity, the World Health Organisation said. At a media briefing on Monday, WHO's emergencies chief Dr. Michael Ryan said that "the numbers are increasing because the epidemic is developing in a number of populous countries at the same time." Some countries have attributed their increased caseload to more testing, including India and the US, but Ryan dismissed that explanation. "We do not believe this is a testing phenomenon," he said, noting that numerous countries have also noted marked increases in hospital admissions and deaths—neither of which cannot be explained by increased testing. "There definitely is a shift in that the virus is now very well established," Ryan said. "The epidemic is now peaking or moving towards a peak in a number of large countries." He added the situation was "definitely accelerating" in a number of countries, including the US and others in South Asia, the Middle East and Africa.

Banning Foreign Home Buyers Would Get Backing Of 78% Of British Columbians

The vast majority of British Columbians would follow in New Zealand's footsteps and ban most foreigners from buying homes in Canada, a new poll from Research Co. finds. In an online survey of 800 adults in British Columbia, 78 per cent of respondents said they were in favour of a New Zealand-style ban on foreign buyers, while 15 per cent opposed the idea and 7 per cent were undecided. "The notion of forbidding most foreigners from owning real estate in Canada is popular among all demographics in British Columbia," Research Co. president Mario Canseco said in a statement. Canseco said the highest support came from Vancouver Island residents and those aged 35 to 54, with 88 per cent support among both groups. An influx of foreign buyers has been one of the most commonly cited reasons for Vancouver's high house prices. The metro area typically ranks among one of the three least affordable housing markets in a survey of hundreds of cities around the world. New Zealand, which has struggled with similar affordability issues as Canada's larger cities, moved in 2018 to forbid foreigners from buying residential real estate. The law exempts citizens of Australia and Singapore, because of free trade agreements. But though the debate has focused recently on New Zealand's move, many countries around the world limit the ability of non-residents or non-citizens to purchase housing.

With face visors and gloves, London’s bespoke tailors reopen for business

Behind a heavy red curtain, Neil Latchman checks the fit of a suit made especially for him by Maurice Sedwell, a tailors which has been making bespoke clothes in London since 1938.

Non-essential shops have reopened as Britain’s coronavirus lockdown eases, allowing customers who prefer their outfits made to measure to return to Savile Row, the central London street synonymous with tailor-made clothes.

Standing in front of dozens of suit jackets in old-fashioned glass cabinets, Latchman keeps still while his chest is measured by shop manager Judith Ekblom Jarrold wearing a plastic face visor. “Part of the joy of bespoke is that interaction that we have with customers - getting to know them, having them in the shops so that we are able to make a really personal experience,” she said. Maurice Sedwell’s tailors cut and sew fabrics like vicuna and cashmere for customers including politicians and business leaders, and despite the safety precautions of visors and gloves, Ekblom Jarrold says it is mostly business as usual.

“There’s not much difference in the way we interact with our customers. One of the key things for us has always been making sure that we’re not invading their personal space,” she said.

Amongst the fabric samples, tailoring scissors and buttons, Latchman said that knowing Maurice Sedwell would not be full of people made him feel more secure and he had decided not to wear a face mask, as he explained why he opted for bespoke suits. “It gives me the body that I don’t really have,” he said, “so there’s a lot of work, a lot of craftsmanship, a lot of art that goes into it.”

JUST 40 ML LIQUOR DAILY MAY PUT YOU AT DEATH RISK

Toronto: Moderate drinkers, beware. Even consuming 350 ml of beer, 140 ml of wine or 40 ml of liquor daily within weekly low-risk drinking guidelines can result in hospitalisation and death, researchers have warned. Moderate drinkers “are not insulated from harm,” said researchers led by Adam Sherk from Canadian Institute for Substance Use Research at the University of Victoria in British Columbia, Canada.

“Don’t drink or, if you do, drink no more than one drink per day,” said Sherk. Overall, the best advice for drinking is to err on the side of caution. “When it comes to alcohol use, less is better”.

The Canadian government’s low-risk drinking guidelines state that women should consume no more than about 10 drinks per week and men no more than 15.

During the research, Sherk and colleagues found that, a significant portion of alcohol-caused death and disability was experienced by those drinking within guidelines. For example, more than 50 per cent of cancer deaths resulting from alcohol use occurred in people drinking moderately. Further, 38 per cent of all alcohol-attributable deaths were experienced by people drinking below the weekly limits or among former drinkers. However, for women, alcohol consumption within the guidelines did offer some protection from death from heart attack, stroke and diabetes.

Nonetheless, “This protective effect did not appear to hold for men who experienced harm at all drinking levels”.

According to the researchers, some drinking guidelines, which are published by many countries to help drinkers make informed health decisions, may still be high.

'EVERYTHING WAS NORMAL IN WORLD, DEEP WITHIN HE WAS SLIPPING AWAY': SUHRITA DAS' FB POST ON SUSHANT-RHEA GOES VIRAL

A Facebook post has gone viral from Suhrita Das' page about Sushant Singh Rajput and Rhea Chakraborty. Das apparently works for Bhatt's Vishesh Films and she has deleted her post now. Dated June 14, Suhrita penned about SSR's clinical depression and how Rhea had sought counselling from Mahesh Bhatt and the struggles she faced during their rumoured relationship. Das has locked her Facebook page, however, the status has gone viral and has become a talk of the town. It read as "Dear Rhea, When the world will be pouring grief for Sushant Singh Rajput and expressing shock and condolence I stand by you firm and strong. Having been a silent spectator to your impossible attempts at trying to keep him together and going... it is my moral duty as a mother and a citizen of this country to tell once and for all that clinical depression is a catastrophe that medical science has no solution or answer to. Every time you came running to the office to seek counsel from Bhatt Saab or spoke to him on the phone I've seen your journey, your struggle." Suhrita added, "Can't forget the evening in Sushant's terrace when it almost felt like everything was normal in the world while deep within he was slipping away. Sir saw that that's why he shared the very words his Master UG told him warning him about Parveen Babi, "walk away or this will take you down under along with." You gave your every-thing and more, you did more much more than your bit woman. Love you my Jalebi. Stay strong."

Twitterati demand Bharat Ratna for Akshay Kumar, Sonu Sood post their contribution during COVID-19 pandemic

'Bharat Ratna' has been trending on Twitter since some time. A few users on the micro-blogging site gave their suggestions for who deserve the honour, and Akshay Kumar, Sonu Sood were the most popular choice among the users. Twitterati picked Akshay Kumar and Sonu Sood for Bharat Ratna because of their contribution, especially during the COVID-19 pandemic. While they noticed Sonu only after his efforts during the pandemic, the users remembered Akshay's donation since Pulwama attacks in 2019. Bharat Ratna trend started on Twitter after Suhel Seth demanded Bharat Ratna for ninth Prime Minister of India, P V Narasimha Rao. He tweeted, "It's an absolute shame that to this day, P V Narasimha Rao, who changed the economic history of India has still not been awarded a posthumous Bharat Ratna. Only because he was independent and not a family serf. At least this Government needs to set things right!" Prior to him, KCR had also rooted for Bharat Ratna for P V Narasimha Rao back in 2014.

IN SUSHANT SINGH RAJPUT'S MEMORY, BHUMI PEDNEKAR PLEDGES TO FEED 550 UNDERPRIVILEGED FAMILIES

Sushant Singh Rajput's Sonchiriya co-star Bhumi Pednekar has joined hands with Ek Saath: The Earth Foundation to feed 550 underprivileged families as a tribute to him. In a statement shared on Instagram, she said, "I pledge to feed 550 impoverished families through the Ek Saath Foundation in memory of my dear friend. Let's show compassion and love towards everyone that is in need, now more than ever." Pragma Kapoor, who runs the NGO, is sponsoring meals for 3,400 needy families with her husband and filmmaker Abhishek Kapoor. She had earlier told IANS, "It's our way of honouring him and his craft, everything he has done and achieved, to celebrate him and everything he stands for. As friends, it gives us something to hold on to."
